FOR NEXT GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA

ADJT. GEN. D. H. HASTINGS,

Subject to the decision of the Republican State Convention.

Expect not an exemption from trouble.

Patterns are more wanted than precepts.

IF Southern elections are honest, a Federal election law will change nothing. If they are not, it is a national necessity.

JUDGE CLAYTON, of Delaware county, decides that it is perfectly legal to kill a fox. The ambitious sportsmen of that neighborhood can tell the Judge that it doesn't happen very often.

ALLEGHENY has a larger stock of politics on hand just now than any other county in the State. There is much of it, however, that would bring little or nothing at a forced sale.

THE Maine Democrats have nominated F. W. Hill for Governor, but his march to fame ends right there. One Democratic Governor by the name of Hill is as much as the country can stand at a time.

THE hot weather seems to be having a somewhat debilitating effect upon the Pattison boom, whereas it acts upon the Wallace boom in directly the other way, The Wallace boom is warranted to keep in any climate.

TWO CHIVALRIC lawyers of South Carolina are chasing each other over the State trying to arrange a duel. So far they have succeeded in escaping each other, but they cannot hope for a continuance of good luck very much longer.

LAWRENCE BARRETT has returned from Europe with recovered health and every prospect of continuing his career upon the American stage, full of honor to himself and equally full of self-denying service of the higher interests of the drama

THE objection which the importers raise against the McKinley bill is that "it would check informations." That means, of course, that more goods would have to be manufactured in this country. Well, brethren, that's just what the McKinley bill is here for, bless your dear souls!

THE Republicans of the First district of Maine renominated Thos. F. Reed for Congress yesterday by acclamation. Of course they did. If they had acted differently other Republican districts would have stumbled over one another in their eagerness to offer their services,

EX-GOVERNOR CURTIN says he will turn in for Hastings if nominated. The aged statesman of Bellefonte, even at this late day, will patronize a home industry. Correct, Governor. If Hastings helped to elect us to Congress in a Democratic district we should certainly turn in when his chances would be so close in so important a contest. The "Old War Governor" says that Bellefonte "breeds Governors," and asks Pennsylvania to take them. It may be remembered that Mr. Curtin and Mr, Beaver are both from Bellefonte.—Altoona Times.

IN the census of 1880 the enumeration in many parts of the South was a cheat and a delusion. Mythical personages crowded many of the pages, while enumeration of people outside of settlements was exaggerated guessing and in the towns was fraudulent. The enumerators turned in numbers to swell their compensation rather than numbers that represented the actual population. The Democratic party was benefited not a little in consequence. The systematic and accurate way that the Census Bureau is working gives reason for believing that the inefficient and harmful methods employed in the south will not be repeated in this census.

A rather amusing oversight occurred in the DAILY NEWS on Saturday. In speaking of the date of the commencement exercises of the Mountain Seminary at Birmingham, it appeared in the paper as the "Mountain Cemetery." We make the correction because a great many people are very much adverse to attending the openings of any cemetery.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, D. C., June 9, 1890.

The President and his family returned to the city to-day from a three days trip to Chesapeake Bay, where they went on the U. S. Dispatch for a short rest.

Speaker Reed has again displayed his ability as a statesman in a most marked manner, and there are few men now in public life who would have had the courage to risk as much as a failure would have cost him in this case. A short time ago the Republican House caucus endorsed the Windom silver bill and it was reported o the House. There were quite a number of Republicans who were opposed to certain features of this bill, and in deference to them another caucus was called last week to consider the question. At that caucus Representative McKinley, who is an able lieutenant to Mr. Reed, proposed a new silver bill as a compromise and it was accepted by the caucus, although there were still a few Republicans who were not entirely satisfied. The next day Speaker Reed called a meeting of the committee on Rules and a rule was adopted to call up the new silver bill at once and fixing upon Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock as the time for taking a vote upon it. This went through with a rush in spite of the kicking of the Democrats who saw all their hopes of a Republican split upon the silver question vanish into nothingness. Saturday afternoon the bill was promptly passed and another diamond was added to Mr. Reed's already brilliant diadem, as a party leader.

The Senate Finance committee is working steady upon the McKinley tariff bill, but no one now expects that it will be reported to the Senate much before July.

The Jones silver bill has lately received some very hard knocks from Republican Senators. Mr. Morrill led off with a speech in opposition and he was followed by Senators Sherman and Hiscock and neither of them minced words in opposing the measure. Senator Plumb defended the bill.

Representative Cooper of Indiana, has presented in the House a resolution directing the committee on Pensions to investigate certain newspaper charges against Commissioner Raum. The charges are that Gen. Raum compelled employes of the Pension office to buy stock in a corporation in which he is interested and that he has favored a certain firm of pension attorneys here in the business of his office. The whole thing is simply a democratic attempt to manufacture political ammunition to be used in the coming Congressional campaign, and there is not the slightest proof in existence of the absurd charges.

Some of the Senators who are decidedly opposed to staying in Washington all Summer are taking up the idea of taking a recess from early in July to October. The idea meets with no favor on the House side.

It is now apparent that there is a deficiency of $6,000,000 in the pension appropriation for the fiscal year ending with this month. No appropriation will be made at the present session of Congress to meet this. It will be paid out of the regular appropriation which becomes available July 1, and will be provided for at the next session of Congress.

It is expected that the river and harbor bill will be reported to the Senate this week.

The President vetoed a bill for a public building at Hudson, New York, because he did not think it was needed, He is giving the log-rollers in Congress some rather strong hints.

A very funny incident occurred during the debate on the silver bill in the House. Mr. Walker of Mass, was making a speech and he got so warmed up that he, seemingly unconsciously, removed his coat and finished in his shirt sleeves to the great amusement of his colleagues and the galleries. It was probably the first time that a Congressman ever made a speech in the House in that condition, and it will not be forgotten soon.

Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, caused a shiver to run down the spines of those conservative old Senators who think that statesmen should wear nothing but black, by appearing on the floor of the Senate Saturday in a natty suit of white flannel. He did not look very dignified but with the thermometer dancing around ninety he looked very comfortable and probably felt so.

The prohibitionists are to be given a joint hearing by the Senate and House committees next Saturday on the joint resolution providing for a prohibition amendment to the constitution of the United States.

The republican Senators are to hold a caucus to-morrow evening to decide upon a successor to Sergeant at Arms Canaday, whose resignation is to take effet July 1

Senator Quay has returned to Washington from a fishing trip, but nobody has heard him tell any fish stories. His example might be followed by other people who go fishing.

Although Massachusetts has a system of voting that is closest to the pure Australian system its ballot reformers are not satisfied, and they have a bill in the Legislature that will round out that state's election laws pretty close to perfection, and the bill will very likely pass. It provides, among other things, that every candidate must report "all moneys contributed, disbursed, or promised, or expended by him or by anyone in attempting to secure his nomination or election;" that all political clubs or similar organizations and any person not a committeeman or member of any other organization who collects or disburses money must file with the Secretary of State an itemized and detailed account of receipts and expenditures. The penalty prescribed is $1,000 fine or imprisonment for a year. The bill is an improvement upon laws for the same purpose in Ehgland and Australia. Pennsylvania should appropriate both the Massachusetts idea of ballot reform—the one it has made into a law and the one it is making into a law. It needs both of them much more than Massachusetts does. Almost every political contest between rival candidates of the same party, or between those of different parties, proves the great want of them.

8977 MAJORITY.

This is the majority by which partial returns show that Oregon has indorsed the McKinley tariff and re-elected Mr Binger Hermann.

Pennsylvania is pretty strongly Protectionist; but if Pennsylvania were to be carried for the McKinley tariff by a vote as heavy as this, the majority would be not 79,458, as in 1888, but 131,000. This majority is one fourth the total Republican vote in Oregon, which this year will be about 35,000. It is 1500 greate, than the majority in June, 1888, a Presidential year. It is 2400 larger than the majority for Harrison in November, 1888. It is four times the largest majority ever polled for the Republican party since the war, save in 1888.

The Oregon farmer has spokon. The farmer everywhere else will take up the wondrous tale. Oregon tallies the first of the majorities approving the McKinley tariff.

And we take this opportunity to renew to Mr. Binger Hermann, the able and hard working Representative from Oregon, to whose efforts and personal popularity so much of this result is due the assurances of our distinguished consideration and the hearty congratulations of his party all over the Union.

Senator Wallace kept the Hon. Sam. Joseph pretty busy all last week telling the newspapers how he was getting the nomination for Governor; but, disastrously enough, Pattison seems to have run away with the most of the delegates elected on Saturday. Some of this misfortune is to be credited to the esteemed New York Sun, which must have felt that Wallace's cause was getting along altogether too swimmingly, for it again returned to his support and gave him that fatal commendation which has before proved such a drawback to his canvass. If our contemporary will hold off long enough to give Mr. Wallace a chance to get his nomination—if it be not too late already—it will be doing a pretty good service.

THE people of Berks County appear to have reached the conclusion that something must be done to rid them of corrupt officials. Some of these have recently been exposed in the newspapers, but, as there was not such evidence of an active disposition to prosecute them as the circumstances clearly demanded, public meetings have been resorted to. Popular indignation is a great force when once fairly aroused, and the people of Berks will doubtless be able to secure some reform. The continued control of ring influence is a misfortune in any county, but it is the fault of the people if permitted after exposures are made.

AS IT NOW STANDS.

Every day the gubernatoral situation grows more intricate and complicated. All the delegates to the convention, which meets on the 25th of this month have been elected but 24. These are to come from the counties of Chester, Fayette, Forest, Jefferson, Montgomery, Pike, Somerset, Washington and Westmoreland. The present standing of the several candidates is as follows:

Delamater	68
Hastings	66
Stone	14
Montooth	20
Osborne	6
Davies	3
McCormick	3
To Elect	24
Whole number of delegates	204
Necessary for a choice.	103

The delegates are divided as follows: Delamater gets from Adams county 2, Armstrong 1, Beaver 2, Berks 5, Cambria 2, Clarion 2, Columbia 2, Crawford 3, Dauphin 2, Delaware 1, Elk 1, Erie 3, Fulton 1, Indiana 2, Lackawanna 4, Lancaster 6, Lawrence 2, Mercer 3, Monroe 1, Northampton 2, Philadelphia 5, Potter 1, Schuylkill 3, Sullivan 1, Tioga 2, Venago 2, Wyoming 1; then there are 6 doubtful ones counted for him to make up the 68 which are as follows: Bucks county 2, Susquehanna 2, Wayne 2, making a total of 68.

Hastings has Blair 2, Carbon 1, Centre 2, Clearfield 2, Clinton 1, Cumberland 2, Dauphin 2, Franklin 1, Huntingdon 1, Juniata 1, Lebanon 2, Mifflin 1, Perry 1, Philadelphia 34, Snyder 1, Union 1, York 4. Doubtful ones—Buck-1, Delaware 2, Lehigh 1, Schuylkill 3, total 66.

The others are divided as follows: Stone—Bedford 2, Butler 2, Cameron 1, Franklin 1, Huntingdon 1, McKean 2, Montour 1, Northampton 1, Northumberland 2, Warren 1, total 14. Montooth—Allegheny 16, Armstrong 1, Greene 1 and Lehigh—doubtful 2, total 20. Osborne—Luzerne 6. Davies—Bradford 3. McCormick—Lycoming 3.

Of the 24 delegates to be yet elected Delamater will not get more than 8, Hastings will get about 9 and the remaining 7 will go to the field. Thus it will be seen that on their own individual strengths alone Delamater will go into the convention with not over 76 delegates and Hastings about 75. There is no knowing just how the wind may blow after the first ballot, as from present indications there will be no nomination on the first. If the field falls away after the first Hastings' chances for securing sufficient of the delegates to pull through on the second ballot are very good.

ONE FLAG ONLY.

Although General Sickles has gone into bad political associations, he is yet sound on the flag question. In his Memorial Day oration in Boston he laid down the law and gospel of the flag in the following eloquent words:

"Comrades, I am unmoved by any rancor or any spirit of hatred. God forbid; but I am a Union soldier and I love my flag, and I say here, and I will say everywhere, that for Americans there is but one flag—the flag of Bunker Hill, and Saratoga, and Yorktown—the flag of Lundy's Lane, Lake Champlain, and Erie, and New Orleans—the flag of Scott, MacDonough, Perry and Jackson—the flag of Lincoln, the flag of Hancock, the flag of Grant, the flag of Washington. It is the only flag which represents the right, and in our charity let us not forget the difference between right and wrong."

Oh, What Self-Importance.

The Bellefonte News boldly asserts: "We can now truthfully say it; for where in all these United States is there another town that in every way combines more of health, beauty and purity than just our own little borough" and so on and so forth to the extent of 3 sticks. Gosh, neighbor you should take a day off some time and get your nose outside of Centre's capital. While we admit that Bellefonte is a right pretty town on an average, yet it can't claim any such distinction as you would have us believe. Clinton county's capital knock's the props from under you on that score. Everybody says so, and what everybody says must be so.—L. H. Democrat.

GENERAL NOTES.

A flock of about 100 swallows have taken possession of the chimney of a church at Red Bank, N. J.

Major Reid, of Abbeville, Ga., has a large dog that sits and barks at the moon on moonlight nights for hours at a time

A citizen of Grand Rapids named D J. Doornink wears on his watch chain a seal which has a record of over 300 years.

At a bear and bull fight in San Diego county, California, the bear had everything its own way, and three bulls were killed.

A gold nugget worth $700 was taken from a mine in the Big Bug district, Arizona, recently. It is now on exhibit at Prescott.

John Charvous, Hindoo and cannibal, originally from the Fiji Islands, but more recently from Canada, is delivering lectures in Georgia.

Information gathered in London is said to show that cats catch diphtheria from human patients and carry the disease to healthy persons.

A two pound radish was raised this season by a Vernon county, Mo., man on ground that has been in constant cultivation 30 years.

Mrs. Whitney, about 70 years old, living just beyond the line of Lockdale, in Henry county, Ga., has, so it is said, never seen a train in her life.

Elbert Roberts, of Jones county, Ga., who attracted much attention by wearing a dress and at the same time having a flowing beard, died Wednesday.

Andrew Bee, of Allegan county, Mich., who was Jeff Davis' captor and can testify to the correctness of the petticoat story, has had his pension increased.

A Crawford county, Pa., Jersey cow took a fancy to the fresh paint on the fence in which the bovine was pastured and licked off a sufficient quanity to kill her.

A Jersey prophet says he has discovered from an early Hackensack mosquito's wishbone that we are to have a summer colder than the memorable winter of 1812.

A Buchanan county, Mo., farmer reports that rats have eaten off 30 square feet of his potato vines and the weeds out of a half-a dozen fence corners near the barn.

The lower part of Fifth avenue, New York, is rapidly becoming undesirable as a place of residence from the intrusion of club houses, fashionable stores, hotels and flats.

The Prince of Wales recently ordered an Axminster carpet made in one solid piece, with 27 irregular projections. When it went down it fitted like the paper on the wall.

A story comes from Rockland, Me., of a large hole in the ground near Blackington's Corner that appears to have no bottom, all efforts to fill it up having proved useless. It is near a limerock quarry.

Alexander Campbell, of Riverside, Cal: has purchased and shipped to California 40,000 Florida orange seedlings, which he intends budding with Riverside navel orange.

Count Charles Dillon, who died in Paris recently, was one of the four survivors of the court of Charles X., to whom he was page of honor during the last four years of his reign. The Count had lived in England and spoke English fluently.

An Australian musician has invented a trombone that is played by steam. Its "God Save the Queen" can be heard a distance of four miles. He had hard luck with it, however, for the people of his own town drove him out as a nuisance.

At last justice has overtaken the dog catcher. One in New York on Friday tore a dog from its lady owner, who was holding it by a strap, and was promptly arrested, charged with larceny, and held in $300 bail. It is about time such fellows were taught a lesson.

A farmer's wife living near Dover, N. J., broke a duck egg into a frying pan a few days ago, when out rolled an egg of smaller size. "The larger egg was of ordinary size and contained a perfect yolk. The inner egg was about ¾ inches long, with a perfect shell and normal in every way.

A Waynesburg, Pa., man found a hen's egg which measured 1 inch in circumference one way and 6¾ the other. The inequalities in its make up gave it the exact appearance of a moccasin showing the opening for a foot, the broad heal, contraction at instep and expansion at the ball of foot.

Mt. Pleasant, the "hub" of Michigan, has a fat man's club of 116 members. At a meeting held last week it was decided to have uniforms consisting of high hats and linen ulsters, and take an excursion to Saginaw. Saginaw will be notified in due time. The combined weight of thk jolly crowd is over 12 tons,

A large alligator crawled into a six foot railroad cut near Abbeville, Ga. The hands were at work in the cut, and the 'gator fell just at the rear of one of them. The negro was not bitten, but was frightened almost out of his wits. Mr. Haygood, the contractor, captured the intruder, and now has him chained.

Our Story Teller.

EUGENE LAX'S GHOST.

Can it be possible that I am mistaken! No; it is the form of a handsome, gallant young man, restlessly pacing up and down the winding walks leading to an elegant mansion. Now and then he pauses to listen, and at last, coming to a full halt near a rose myrtle, imagines he hears a faint sound of footsteps. His over taxed patience was soon rewarded by the appearance of a female figure.

"Eugene," whispered a soft voice. "Eugene, is it you?"

And the young man stepped forward, took the beautiful, soft hand, and raised it to his lips.

"It seems almost an eternity I have waited, Elsie," he said.

"I could not come sooner," she replied. "He would have me sing him song after song, and would not listen to a refusal. He is a cruel tyrant! Oh! I pity the woman who becomes his wife."

"Have you told your father that you would not marry this man, Elsie? If not, do so at the earliest moment possible, for I have no likings for secrets, and I must woo and win you openly. Your father is a man of much ability and good sense, and would not give his daughter's hand in marriage to one man when her heart belonged to another. Therefore, tell him the ruth, Elsie, or else bid me tell him; I an endure these secret meetings no longer."

"You do not know my father, Eugene, as I do. He betrothed me to Felix Lavero when I was a mere child and Felix only a boy of twelve, he considers that as binding. But if Felix were a different man all might be well—I would need but to ask his aid to break the foolish compact. Ah, but he is so different from all other men. Though I have been as disagreeable as I dared, yet he has chosen to be in love with me, and is determined. Between themselves they have this night set the wedding day. I am ordered to be ready one month from to-night, Eugene."

"And still you said nothing?" asked the young man.

Elsie suddenly turned and cast herself into his arms, and, hiding her face upon his bosom, sobbed out: "I was afraid Eugene, I cannot save myself, but I leave it all with you."

"Then I will go to your father in the morning," said the young man with renewed hope. I was only waiting for ou to give your consent. Have no fear, my dear; all will be well."

His arms tightened around her fair orm while he imprinted kisses upon her lovely face.

"You shall be mine," he said, "and I will love thee more and more. Do not be afraid."

And she was not, while his strong arms encircled her and his breath was upon her cheek.

But it is growing late and she must return to the house. The last embrace is taken, and Eugene, pausing by the rose-myrtle sees her vanish in the surrounding darkness.

"On the morrow, thank God, I shall be free of this secret work" he said, "If Captain Warren refuses me his daughter's hand, when I claim it by right o love—"

The sound of footsteps caused the he young man to stop; and, replacing his hat, which he held in his hand, on his golden curls, he turned and walked oward the outer gate. As he was in the act of leaving the gate, which he had just closed, behind him, a dark form stood in his pathway.

'What might be your name?' inquired he new comer.

'My name, sir, is one well known in his vicinity, and is Eugene Lax. I was, ern here. You, it seems, have lately come here; and what might be your ame?"

"It might be "the devil" but it is not. I am known where I came from Lousiana, as well as here, as Felix Lavere, and my business here is of importance. I am engaged to Miss Elsie Warren, by consent of her father. And more than that, sir; for some time I have noticed that something was wrong, and to-night I followed her; I saw her meet you, speak a few words and then fall sobbing into your arms. You have loved and you can imagine my emotions. There is but one way to settle this affair."

"I am ready to settle at any time, sir," replied Eugene; "but let me tell you now that Miss Warren is my promised wife; the affair with you has not her consent at all, but is of her father's making. To-morrow I shall go to him and claim her. She loves me and will marry me. She may have been wrong in not being candid with you—and I have emplored her to do so—but surely you will resign all claims to her when you know that she does not love you and asks you to free her?"

"I refuse to look upon this matter in such a light, sir, I refuse to consider any part but yours. I saw you fold her to your bosom—you must fight me."

"Name your man! mine shall meet him," said Eugene.

"No seconds are needed!" hissed Lavere through his clinched teeth. "The moon is just rising, and will give us all the light we need. Are you prepared?"

"I am," replied Eugene, in a strange and unnatural tone.

"I will stand here; you may choose your stand. The village clock will strike 12 in a moment, At its last stroke we both fire together. Does that suit you?'

"It will be assassination," said Eugene' "and it does not please me."

"Then I will shoot you down in your tracks, as I would a dog," said Lavere, "and I will say that you insulted my betrothed wife."

"Then if I kill you, your blood be upon your own hand" replied Eugene, as he took his position, twenty paces away.

Lavere laughed a scornful laugh as Lax moved away.

"There is still time for you to set another hour," said Eugene, quietly.

"And time for you to sneak away," replied Lavere. "But I shall not give you the opportunity."

The clock began to strike. In silence they counted the strokes that came from the old belfry. At the last stroke both fired, and Eugene Lax fell forward on his face. Levere rushed to him. He was senseless and the blood was gushing from a wound in his side. Eugene Lax's snowy linen was already stained crimson, but Lavere had no pity.

With an oath he lifted the body of the youth in his arms and carried it beyond the huts of the field hands, and laid it down behind a small, moss covered bank near the running stream.

A few moments later, had he watched, he could have seen a pair of glaring eyes protruding above the low hedge. only a few yards away. Yes, "Old Aunt Silvey" was a witness to the whole affair. But what could she do? Well, wait and see,

"There is something very strange about the disappearance of Eugene Lax" many were saying the following day. And a few days later anxious search was made, but no clue could be obtained. Two weeks passed, a third, and yet no one could solve the mystery concerning the disappearance of the young man, and those who loved him were given up to despair.

Elsie, pale as marble, roamed about her father's house like a ghost, and offered no opposition to the arrangements being made for the approaching marriage to Felix Lavere.

A few days later, it was the evening before the marriage on the next day, Elsie was all smiles. She had made no effort to break the engagement. And while sitting with Felix she proposed taking a stroll down the walks of the garden. The night was a lovely one, and Felix felt duty bound to offer her his arm, while old "Aunt Silvey" followed close behind.

They had reached the rose-myrtle bush where Lavere stood when he fired the fatal shot. Here they paused; why, they knew not. And for the first time in his life Felix Lavere felt a thrill of superstitious terror run through his veins.

He would have gladly fled the would-be haunted spot, but Elsie stood calm, and, breaking into a merry laugh, said:

"Why, Felix! you look as if you had seen a ghost. What is the matter?"

"My coming happiness has furnished many thoughts," replied Lavere.

"But you were gazing towards the woods, as though you saw some one, said Elsie.

"I certainly see some one coming this way," he replied, as he gazed with startled eyes toward the stream.

"Imagination, sah!" put in Aunt Silvey. "Nobod dah sah!"

"Do you not see that man?" said Lavere, pointing in the direction of the little mossy bank.

"I see no one at all," said Elsie.

"There, right before you," said Lavere, shrinking back.

"Ain't no man here, sah?" said Aunt Silvey. "You're dreamin'!"

"My God!" gasped Lavere; for he plainly saw before him the figure of Eugene Lax—thin, pale, and his golden curls falling over his shoulders, with his hand on his side as though pointing to the wound he had received. "You see him now?" Gasped the wretched Lavere.

"No I see nothing," replied Elsie.

The figure stood motionless in the moonlight.

"Murderer!" Lavere heard it murmur, softly.

"It was a duel! We fought fairly," shrieked Lavere. "I did not murder you!"

The figure retreated slowly toward the wood, then turned, and in an instant was within a few feet of Lavere. But it did not speak to him. In silence it approached Elsie, and taking her hand, waved to Lavere, as though desiring his with drawal from the spot.

Seeing the ghost lead away his dear Elsie and vanish into the wood, Lavere needed no further warning. In an instant he was gone, and since that hour has not been seen in the little village of Cloverdale.

However there was a wedding the next day at the Warren mansion, but the bridegroom was Eugene Lax—not Felix Lavere.

Old Aunt Silvey, who witnessed the removal of the body by Lavere, after the shooting found Lax not dead, but unconscious, and carried him to a hut near by and nursed him back to life. And the little scene which has just been played was concocted by the lovers to rid themselves of Felix Lavere, in which, you see, they have been successful.

Having heard the truth, Captain Warren aided in the plot, and now "all is merry," etc.

Pianos-Organs.

The improved method of fastening strings of Pianos, invented by us, is one of the most important improvements ever made, making the instrument more richly musical in tone, more durable, and less liable to get out of tune.

Both the Mason & Hamlin Organs and Pianos excel chiefly in that which is the chief excellence in any musical instrument, quality of tone. Other things, though important, are much less so than this. An instrument with unmusical tones cannot be good. Illustrated catalogues of new styles, introduced this season, sent free.

WILLIAM AND BISMARCK

The Powers Notified That the Iron Man's Opinions Are Private Ones.

THE QUESTION OF TITHES.

The English Agriculturalists Very Restive Under the Burden Imposed Upon Them, and Are Inclined to Clamor for Disestablishment.

BERLIN, June 7.—The Berliner Tageblatt says that Chancellor von Caprivi has sent communications to the various powers of Europe informing them that the utterances of Prince Bismarck since his retirement from office concerning affairs in Germany are merely expressions of the opinion of a private gentleman.

VIENNA, June 6.—The Neue Freie Presse says that Emperor William has discarded the idea of interfering with Bismarck on the ground that it is evident that on account of his confiding in newspapers of nations not friendly to Germany the exchancellor's utterances will not affect the German policy.

It is announced in official circles that Chancellor von Caprivi's communication to the various European powers concerning Prince Bismarck, referred to by The Tageblatt, is merely a notification of Prince Bismarck's resignation, it being usual to inform the powers when a high state official withdraws.

Tired of the Burden.

LONDON, June 7.—The English agriculturalists, who bear the burden of supporting the Established clergy in the way of tithes on their produce, are very restless under the burden, and not at all satisfied with the government bill transferring the payment of rent charge from the tenant to the landlord. What they want is a revaluation of the tithe, the circumstances under which tithes were valued in 1836, and the high basis which prices then established, being very unsatisfactory now.

The farmers seem inclined to join in the clamor for disestablishment, but so far they content themselves with declining to approve the government bill and calling for readjustment. The action of the house of commons in committee last night, however, in rejecting a proposal to revise the tithe system to meet the altered agricultural condition, will doubtless induce them to join the ranks of the howlers for disestablishment.

Captured by a Mob.

LONDON, June 7.—At Freudenthal, Austrian Silesia, a mob of four hundred striking weavers attacked and captured by storm all of the factories which had been able to retain or procure a sufficient number of hands to continue running. The rioters met with slight resistance, and when in possession of the factories compelled all of the operatives to cease work and leave the premises.

A force of gendarmes was summoned and dispersed the mob after a stubborn fight, in which several were wounded, but the intimidated workmen were afraid to return to the factories, which are now at a standstill.

The proposed strike of the employes in Vienna has been postponed two weeks. It was intended that the men should strike next Monday, and the masters were so notified.

Predicts an Eruption.

BERLIN, June 7.—Professor Falb, of the University of Berlin, has published an article predicting that the middle of the present month will witness an eruption of Mount Ætna of greater violence than has characterized any volcanic disturbance of that mountain for many years.

The Jersey Lily Laid Up.

LONDON, June 7.—Mrs. Langtry is confined to her bed with a severe attack of pleurisy, and her physicians express fears that the disease will compel her to remain indoors for several weeks.

Quit in Disgust.

ABILENE, Kan., June 7.—The original package house established here a week ago by a Kansas City brewing company has been discontinued after a tempestuous career. The stock has been shipped back to headquarters by the disgusted manager, and legal proceedings against him will probably be dropped.

BRIEF MENTION.

Col. Andrew H. Dawson challenged ex-Judge Bedford to fight a duel in New York over the manner in which Bedford conducted a murder trial. An application was made for the arrest of Dawson for sending the challenge. Both men are assistant district attorneys of New York.

A band of drunken Indians in the Upper Green river country killed Chief Engineer Crittenden, E. W. Timberlake, George E. Woods and Henry Overmeyer, members of a government survey party, and dangerously wounded Jesse Lee, assistant engineer.

Proceedings have been begun in New York to establish the mental condition of Mrs. Mary E. Carroll, wife of G. D. Carroll, the Spiritualist. She has been confined in an insane asylum for over four years.

Clarence K. Brown, of Philadelphia, an actor, and Minnie B. Richardson, of Cortland, N. Y., an actress, were married in a furiously driven cab during the twenty minute stop of a train at Scranton.

The synod of the Reformed Presbyterians, in session in New York, formally approved of a petition to congress to amend the constitution of the United States so as to recognize the divinity of Christ.

Policeman Michael McLaughlin, of Newark, arrested his 24-year-old son, James, for inflicting a stab wound upon William Kiernan, on May 24, Kiernan's condition having become serious.

Judge Beach affirmed in the New York supreme court the decision of the general term in connection with the Tilden trust. He holds the bequest illegal and void.

Manager Harry C. Miner brought suit in New York against Mrs. James Brown Potter for $2,438, which, Mr. Miner claims, he expended in costumes for the actress.

The number of fatalities at Bradshaw, the Nebraska village that was destroyed by a cyclone on Tuesday night, has reached fifteen. The loss is $250,000.

Lightning struck the grand stand on the Brotherhood baseball grounds at Cleveland, stunning several people, and a panic followed.

Speaker Thomas B. Reed was renominated for congress by the Republicans of the First Maine district.

The Ladies'Home Journal.

The largest and best number ever issued of The Ladie's Home Journal is that for June, in which sixty articles and over fifty authors discuss every conceivable point of interest to women. "Are Women Careless of Money?" is a striking article by Junius Henri Browne, in which the author takes up the question whether women ruin men by their extravagance. "How to Close a Town House for Summer" is excellently told by Florence Howe Hall, while Ellen Le Garde delightfully treats some "Out door Sports for Girls." Lina Beard tells how to arrange "A Paper Picnic," while Mrs. Mallon, the famous New York fashion writer, begins a department "For Woman's Wear," which is the most practical, sensible and careful department ever published by a magazine. Mrs. Whitney, Maud Howe, Kate Upson Clark each have a serial novel, and there is also a charmingly illustrated story for girls by Fay Huntingdon. Dr. Talmage tells in a humorous way of "A Balloon Wedding" in which he was the officiating clergyman, while Percy Vere has a unique and admirable article on Summer Widowers." Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher writes for mothers; Ella Wheeler Wilcox has a poem, Felix L. Oswald, Eben E. Rexford, Edward W. Bok, Wolstan Dixey, all have articles, and even then there are still a score or more of articles that will interest every woman in the and. So good a magazine should be in levery home where good and sensible literature is appreciated. The Journal is only one dollar a year, and is published at 434-435 Arch street, Philadelphia, Pa.

A Haunted House.

This body of ours has been likened to a tenement. It often has a haunted apartment—the stomach, Scared by the eldrich sprite, dyspepsia, digestion flies and refuse to return. What can break the spell, what can raise the ban laid upon the unhappy organs? We answer unhesitatingly, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and we are warranted in the responce by the reccorded testimony of myraids, covering a period of over a third of a century. A course of the Bitters, begun in any stage of the affliction, and presistently followed. will terminate in cure positive, not partial. The Bitters restore tone to the epigastric nerve, renews and purifies the juices exuding from the cell lular tissue that act upon the food digestively, expels bile from the stomach and the blood, and promotes a regular habit of body. Malaria, kidney complaint, nervousness, rheumatism and neuralgia give way to headache. J1-6

Amos Harper Dead.

Friday morning at three o'clock, one of the oldest residents of Warriorsmark valley, and one of the most lovable old gentlemen we ever knew, Amos Harper, breathed his last. For the past year he had been in poor health, and his advanced age retarded recuperation. The cause of his demise was heart disease. The funeral will take place from the late home of the deceased at Warriorsmark, and the services will be conducted by Rev. J. W. Ely, pastor of the M. E. Church at that place. Interment in Warriorsmark cemetery.

Amos Harper was born at Pine Grove, Centre county, July 24, 1810. Had he lived less than two months longer, therefore, he would have rounded out full four score years of life. As a young man, he drove team at Curtin's iron work's being engaged for a long time in hauling metal from that place to Pittsburg. He afterwards was teamster at Pennsylvania and Huntingdon Furnaces. For the past twenty years however, he had been farming, on the property which he held until the time of his death.

In May, 1835, Mr. Harper was united in marriage to Miss Sarah Knoll, of Centre county. His aged wife survives him. They had but one child, Mrs. Balser Rumberger, who died about twenty years ago. The deceased was a consistent member of the M. E. church and died in the glorious hope of a blessed future life. He was also a member of Tyrone Lodge No. 152, I. O. O. F.

Weak Women.

The more sensitive nature of the feminine sex renders women much more susceptible than men to those numerous ults which spring from lack of harmony in the system. The nervous system gives way, sick headache is frequent, the appetite is lost, and other ailments peculiar to the sex cause great suffering. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted for such cases, and has received the most gratifying praise for the relief it has afforded thousands of women whose very existence before taking it was only misery. It strengthens the nerves, cures sick headache and indigestion, purifies and vitalizes the blood, and gives regular and healthy action to every organ in the body. j 5-m.

—John Everhart, a good natured Franklin township Republican, who is as round as tall and as fat as Tom Reed, of Maine, was a delegate in Tuesday's convention. Mr. Everhart is known to fame as the man who knocked in the big plate glass windows at P. Gray Meek's Bellefonte Watchman office in 1885, because the wiry editor exhibited in his shop a picture of our one-legged Governor with a "store order" in his right hand about ready to pay his men. Everhart was indicted and convicted of malicious mischief, and was sentenced to pay a fine for resenting an insult to his friend, the Governor, but the Republican county Committee paid the costs and fine, as well, and happy John Everhart says he didn't lose an ounce of flesh or a moments sleep over the whole transaction.—Huntingdon Globe.

In Other Counties.

A commandery of the Knights of the Golden Eagle has been organized at Saxton, Bedford County.

T. Henderson Gilson, a respected citizen of Spruce Hill, Juniata county, died on Monday, aged 73 years.

The Powelton furnaces have been shut down for an indefinite period, throwing 200 men out of employment.

John R. McMonigal, who died suddenly of a hemorrhage at Silver Lake, New Mexico, on the 26th of May, was buried at Port Royal last Sunday.

Philip Kee an aged colored man of Bedford, received a pension certificate last week with $5,700 back pay. This is the highest amount paid to any soldier in Bedford county.

At a recent barn raising in Stonycreek township, Somerset county, while the end sleeper was being put up, it slipped out and struck George E. Geisel, killing him instantly.

John O'Dell, while assisting to shift cars at a point on the Diamond Valley railroad, about four miles west of Mowerville, Huntingdon county, was thrown to the track and crushed to death.

Beautiful Bellefonte.

We can now truthfully say it; for where in all these United States is there another town that in every way combines more of health, beauty and purity than just our own little borough. And at this season of the year it shows off to good advantage, The beautiful and luxuriant shade trees, the lovely lawns, bedecked with choicest flowers, the hand some residences' the generally well kept streets, the attractive business houses and the general air of sociability and respectability that every where abounds combine to make Bellefonte almost an ideal place to live in.

Very few of the residents of the town go to the sea shore during the hot weather, unless it be just a brief trip of a couple of days. No mountain or other inland resort is sought for for the reason that Bellefonte at all times is just as good and healthy a place as anywhere else. Indeed, during the past few years through the hot summer weeks many persons from the hot, stifling cities come to Bellefonte to spend a few weeks or, maybe, months. Oh, this is a nice place and growing nicer every year.

Meyer's Ballot Machine.

An item appearing in the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle of June 4, is as follows: A new Rochester enterprise has just been formed, and the required amount of capital subscribed to carry on a big business in the city. The company "Ballot Machine Company," and is organized to manufacture the machine of that name.

The directors named in the certificate of incorporation are: George C. Buell, Sr., Edward Harris, H. S. Greenleaf, L. P. Ross, Henry C. Brewster, Charles R. King, George F. Yeomans, Harvey D. Gordon and J. H. Meyers. The remaining stockolders include a number of prominent wealthy men, among whom are H. A. Strong, E. S. Curtis, Chauncey B. Woodworth, Henry Michaels, W. C Barry, George Ellwanger and A.S. Hamilton. The new company pays to the patentee for his patents $250,000.

The patentee is none other than Mr. J. H. Meyers, at one time the proprietor of the Bush House in this place. We congratulate Mr. Myers on his succes.

Horse Stolen

A horse was stolen on Monday at Howard, Centre county, from one Thos. Butler by one Samuel Watkins, who gave his name as Walker, and who had been working for Butler for a couple of days. Watkins brought the horse to this city and traded it to Julius Wiedner for another horse and some boot money, Mr. W., of course, never even dreaming that the horse was a stolen one. Watkins then sold the Wiedener horse to Bernau, the butcher, for $3.00. The thief was arrested by officers Keller and Myers in Bellefonte and was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace, John B. Linn and in default of bail was committed to jail for court. Butler is now happy in the re-possession of his horse, as is likewise Mr. Wiedener, who had to pay three dollars, however, to get his horse back from Bernau. Wiedener is therefore out of the boot money and the three dollars paid to Bernau for the return of his "critter."—Lock Haven Democrat.

—The "Court House Ring," both democrats and republicans, indulged in a general treat on Thursday afternoon. It was a free drink of that delicious bever age—ice cold lemonade.

—In Blair county they are doing it up great. The politicians are all urged to assemble in a church in Tyrone next Sunday evening and listen to a sermon on "Christianity and Politics."

—There are more mice and rats in Bellefonte to the square inch than many people imagine and as it would not be believed, even when true, we will not state just how many there are.

—It is plainly evident that the Bellefonte correspondent of the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin is a close reader of the DAILY NEWS, as anyone can see by perusing his items published in the Williamport paper.

The Prospects for Silver Legislation at This Session.

FATE OF THE HOUSE BILL.

A Wide Difference of Opinion as to What the Senate Will Do with It—Free Coinage Republicans May Combine with the Democrats.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—A wide difference of opinion prevails among observers in the senate wing of the Capitol as to the fate of the house silver bill when it reaches that quarter, but this is mostly in respect to details.

On certain points there seems to be a practically unanimous judgment (1) that whatever bill the senate passes will lack the bullion redemption feature, and (2) that it will call for the purchase of 4,500,000 ounces of silver a month instead of $4,500,000 worth.

A good many say, also, that there will be inserted in the bill a provision for the coinage of all the silver brought to the treasury by the bullion owners — which, of course, is equivalent, for public purposes, to free coinage.

It must be remembered, however, that when the two houses have reached widely different conclusions, and an attempt is made to reconcile them by the appointment of a joint committee of conference, two men of pronounced financial views will have a large share at that juncture in the shaping of the sequel.

Those men are Thomas B. Reed, who will appoint the conferrees on the part of the house, and Levi P. Morton, who will have a corresponding duty to perform in behalf of the senate.

Both are eastern men, are recognized as mono-metallists, and their choice will naturally fall upon members who are in active sympathy with the administration on this question. They will doubtless strike out everything that is absolutely distasteful to Secretary Windom and as much else that is distasteful to him as prudence will permit.

Whether both houses will adopt the report of the conference committee is another question. In the house the effort to drive the majority into its support will be made by the speaker, and he may succeed, but [illegible] the possibility of the free with the Democrats and defeat the adoption of the conference report, thus killing outright all chance of legislation for the session.

If the house rejects the conference report, that ends the whole business. In the senate, where party discipline is not by any means so perfect as in the house, the prospect of its rejection is thought to be stronger, and that would be of course quite as effective.

Gen. Franklin's Report.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The secretary of state has sent to congress a copy of a letter of the commissioner general of the Paris exposition for the United States, dated Hartford, Conn., June 2, forwarding his official report and the data to complete volume 1.

Gen. Franklin also encloses a memorandum showing the contents of four other volumes, which will soon be ready for transmission to congress.

The detailed statement of expenditures of the American commissioners, called for by the law under which they were appointed, the secretary says will be forwarded at the earliest practicable date.

A President Very Much Interviewed.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The members of the Minnesota State Editors and Publishers' association and their families, about 150 persons in all, arrived here Monday afternoon. L. P. Hunt, of the Mankato Daily News, heads the delegation. The visitors called on the president and viewed some of the departments this morning. Quite an elaborate programme has been laid out for their entertainment. They will remain here until Friday.

This Means the World's Fair.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Mr. Morse, of Massachusetts, introduced in the house a bill prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors upon all grounds on which are located exhibition and exposition buildings for which appropriations are made by the government. The same bill was introduced in the senate "by request" by Mr. Blair.

Accident Underwriters in Session.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The fifteenth annual convention of the Mutual Life and Accident Underwriters of America commenced Tuesday morning at the Metropolitan hotel. About forty companies from different states were represented. The convention was called to order with D. J. Avery, of Chicago, in the chair. After the delivery of the address of welcome by Mr. Holmes on behalf of Mayor Grant and a response by Mr. Litchfield, of Boston, President Avery delivered the annual address.

The Marine Has Been Fooling Them.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—It looks very much as if George La Blanche has been fooling the San Francisco sports, who imagined that he was drinking heavily, keeping late hours, etc., in Denver. He telegraphed President Fulda, of the California club, from Denver that he found it an easy matter to take off his adipose tissue, and that he would be in trim and at the required weight to fight young Mitchell the 27th of this month.

Won't Lodge with Colored Men.

CAIRO, Ills., June 11.—Trouble is anticipated by the Illinois Central management from the firemen and brakemen on the Centralia division, because colored firemen from the southern division are brought over the river to lodge with the whites at Mound's Junction, the new terminus of the southern division. The white men have held a meeting and resolved to ask the company to send the colored men to lodge elsewhere.

Arraigned for Parricide.

HURON, S. D., June 11.—Fred Hundley was arraigned here for the murder of his father, Editor Z. T. Hundley, on Thursday last. He waived examination and was committed to await the action of the grand jury next September. Mrs. Hundley and her daughter Nellie gave bonds for their appearances as witnesses.

Married, but Not Mated.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Michael Conlan shot and mortally wounded his wife, Mary. They have been married for about seven years, but were never happy together. The shooting was the culmination of jealousy and domestic troubles. Conlan surrendered to the police.

HE STOLE HER HEART.

And Then He Stole Her Money and Got Into Trouble.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Simon Loewenberg attended the Tombs police court matinee Tuesday morning to answer the charge preferred against him by his erstwhile inamorata for trifling with her young affections and her hard earned savings. Mary Goldstein, who is the Lilly Langtry of Broome street, appeared in satin and velvet, trimmed with jet, in the approved Broome street style. Her story was to the following effect:

Simon Loewenberg, a manufacturing tailor, residing at the same address, No. 223 Broome street, met her in the hallway and offered her work as a finisher at $7 a week. She immediately "caught on to the job," as she expressed it in the local vernacular. Then Loewenberg, who is a regular masher among the females of Broome street, "made up" to the guileless Mary and eventually proposed marriage. Then he proposed a small loan, which she granted him, and in the end he managed to get $116 from Mary before she had her suspicions aroused. His triumph was short lived, for hints about Simon's financial and moral standing were scattered about, and a story about a Mrs. Loewenberg and several olive branches also reached Mary's ears.

A mutual friend was detailed to see Loewenberg, and the upshot of his visit was that the gay Lothario admitted that when he got hold of all Mary's savings he would do the fashionable tour through Europe. He held the advanced views of the Christian scientists believing in soul love and claimed that a man had a right to love any woman he pleased.

Loewenberg, who appeared in court with his raven locks carefully oiled, claimed that Mary had offered him the money and that she could prefer no charge against him. When questioned about his wife he stated that he had been separated from her for some time. He admitted the soft impeachment of the love passages that had passed between himself and Mary.

At this juncture Mary relented somewhat and magnanimously offered to "let up" on Simon if he would refund the $116. The court informed her that that was the sole ground for action, as it had nothing to do with the embezzlement of her young and hitherto untried heart. Attorney Robert Greenthal, who has charge of the case on behalf of Mary Goldstein, said he was prepared to prove that Simon had been for some time systematically trifling with girls. Loewenberg was held in $1,000 to answer to the charge in the sessions.

Took an Overdose of Chloral.

GENEVA, N. Y., June 11.—A. J. Elwood, a well known Genevan, died at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning from the effects of an overdose of chloral taken Monday night. His wife discovered between 2 and 3 o'clock Tuesday morning that something was wrong with her husband and endeavored to arouse him. She sent for medical aid and physicians worked over him until his death. Mr. Elwood was about 45 years of age and had been a great sufferer from rheumatism. He has several times said he would be better off dead, but whether he took his life while temporarily insane or whether the chloral was taken to alleviate pain, from which he suffered intensely last night, is not known. A few years ago he took an overdose of morphine which nearly ended his days.

There May Be Wholesale Lynching.

BISMARCK, N. D., June 11.—The four masked highwaymen who held up the Northern Pacific passenger train Sunday morning will doubtless soon be captured by soldiers or vigilantes. Monday afternoon a strong detachment of cavalry was dispatched from each of the three nearest military stations, Standing Rock, Abraham Lincoln and Yates, to overtake the civilians in order to prevent the wholesale lynching which will be the result if the robbers are first discovered by the frontiersmen. At night a report reached town that the searchers were within three hours' ride of the robbers. They are headed for Dickinson toward the Bad lands, and should they get into that country there will be much trouble and danger in capturing them.

The Price Was Four Millions.

LOUISVILLE, June 11.—The deal for the street car system of Louisville has been closed and a syndicate, composed of E. E. Denniston, E. W. Clark & Co., of Philadelphia; J. V. W. Seligman & Co., of New York; Kidder, Peabody & Co., of New York, and Brown Bros. & Co., of New York, now owns the 151 miles of street railroad. The price paid was $4,000,000. The first payment of $800,000 was made Tuesday. The stock was sold for 272.

In the Agonies of Hydrophobia.

PEORIA, Ills., June 11.—Little Willie Dodds, aged 3 years, died a horrible death from hydrophobia. To add to the horror of the situation, just as the little fellow was in the last agonies of death he sprang from the bed and bit his mother and his aunt, who were waiting on him. The boy was bitten about six months ago by a dog which has as yet shown no symptoms of madness.

For Refusing to Answer.

NEW YORK, June 11.—A dozen more warrants for the arrest of persons who refused to answer the questions put them by the census enumerators were issued by United States Commissioner Shields. On the batch of warrants issued Monday six arrests were made and the prisoners brought before the commissioners. Four were discharged and the others held for examination.

Suffocated to Death.

CHICAGO, June 11.—By the giving way of a bin at the Danville elevator Simon Gorman and Timothy Lynch, two grain shovelers, were caught beneath an avalanche of grain and suffocated to death. It took fifty men nearly two hours to release the bodies of the unfortunate men.

The First of the Season.

NEWPORT, June 11.—The first society wedding of the season Tuesday was rather a quiet affair, but very elegant in its appointments. The parties were Mr. Richard Wallack, of Washington, and Maud Anna, daughter of Samuel F. Barger, of New York. About 175 guests partook of the wedding breakfast. The couple will sail from New York for Europe Wednesday.

THE SANDBAGGING CONVICT.

He Tells His Story and Gets Ten Years Imprisonment.

TRENTON, June 11.—Thomas Thomas, the colored convict who escaped from the New Jersey state prison on May 9 with another thirty-year convict named Jackson, and who was captured in Philadelphia after a hard battle in which Policeman Barber, of that city, was desperately wounded and Jackson was shot dead, was brought to this city Tuesday on requisition by Detective John Clancy.

He was arraigned before Squire Jesse E. Bodine in the county jail on three complaints. One charges him with atrocious assault and battery on Prison Keeper Parker, who was knocked senseless by blows from a sandbag on the night the convicts escaped, another of larceny from the person and the third for breaking jail.

When asked to plead to the charges Thomas said: "Squire, I didn't do the hittin' nor the robbin', but I did break jail." Thomas was committed to jail for a hearing on the first two charges.

Before the squire arrived a reporter asked Thomas to tell the whole story concerning the escape and capture. After securing the consent of the jail officials, and in their presence, he said:

"From the time Jackson was put in the center until the night of our escape he was always talking of getting out. He wanted to break out the bars in the window, and another time he wanted to get a lot of the prisoners in the scheme, but I kept telling him that we would be pardoned and refused to go into the plot. The night we did escape I knew nothing of any plot until a few minutes before, when Jackson said to me: 'Say, I'm goin' to-night.'

"Just as he said this Mr. Parker sent me in the room for something and a woman knocked on the window. I called him, as I had often done before, and told him a woman had knocked. Mr. Parker and I both leaned on the window sill, looking out, when Jackson came in the room. Jackson walked up behind us and he pulled out an old stocking filled with sand. Mr. Parker and I both turned around and looked at him, and I thought Mr. Parker saw the bag, but I guess he didn't. The next thing Jackson struck him alongside the head. Mr. Parker fell to the floor and I ran upstairs for the clothes I've got on now. When I came down Jackson had the keys and had tied Mr. Parker. I asked: 'Is he dead?'

"'No. What does yer care if he is?' replied Jackson.

"We went out and walked right through the town and crossed the Delaware bridge over the side where the trains run, and went on down the road. All the money Jackson had after the robbery was $2.41. I did not see anything of any $75 nor any papers.

"When we was going down the road Jackson wanted to enter several houses, but I would not. But after we passed two or three towns he did enter a house and stole something to eat and a banjo. That was all we had to eat until I was captured."

Thomas was arraigned late in the morning before Judge Woodruff. He pleaded non vult and was sentenced to ten years imprisonment.

A Noted Theatre Burned.

BROOKLYN, June 11.—At an early hour Tuesday morning Hyde & Behman's variety theatre, on Adams street, this city, was burned to the ground. All that now remains of the theatre, for seasons the best paying and most popular place of amusement in Brooklyn, is the front wall, three stories of white brick, and the iron sign over the main entrance. The loss is estimated at from $60,000 to $100,000, and the insurance is said to be $25,000, assumed, in small sums, by New York houses. Hyde & Behman's theatre has figured prominently in the history of Brooklyn for a great number of years. A public market formerly stood on the site. It was used on the occasion of the great Brooklyn theatre fire as a receptacle for the bodies of the victims.

BISHOP WIGGER'S JUBILEE.

Celebration of the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of His Priesthood.

NEWARK, N. J., June 11.—Bishop Wigger, of this diocese, has been a priest for twenty-five years. A commemoration of the anniversary of his service was celebrated Tuesday evening by the priests and Catholic congregations of this city at St. Patrick's cathedral, in an appropriate and elaborate manner. One form of the jubilee celebration in honor of the beloved prelate was a popular subscription to the Leo house for German immigrants near Castle Garden. The St. Raphael society, of which the bishop is president, directs the affairs of this institution.

The Right Rev. Winand M. Wigger is a New Yorker by birth, and he is not yet 50 years of age, the date of his birth being December, 1841. He was early sent to the Jesuit college of St. Francis Xavier, Sixteenth street, this city, where his talents attracted the notice of his professors. From this institution he passed to Seton Hall, the Newark diocesan seminary, where he pursued his theological studies for some time, and being too young for ordination at the completion of his course, Bishop Bayley sent him to the famous Brignoli Sale at Genoa, Italy, to still continue his studies. There young Wigger won his doctor's cap and there he was ordained on June 10, 1864, he being then in his 23rd year.

When he returned to this country he was appointed immediately to a priesthood at the Newark cathedral. After several years' service there he was sent to Madison as pastor of St. Vincent's church, the rectorate of which had become vacant by the death of its former incumbent. He served there until promoted to the purple, and his consecration took place at St. Patrick's cathedral, Newark, Oct. 18, 1881, Archbishop Corrigan, his predecessor in the see, being the officiating prelate and Bishops McQuaid and Laughlin his assistants.

During his administration he has added largely to the equipment of his see, and he deserves great credit for having perfected the works begun by Bishops Bayley and Corrigan.

Will Loan Five Millions to the Fair.

CHICAGO, June 11.—The city council have decided that, if the legislature will grant them power, they will loan $5,000,000 to the World's fair. The governor is requested to call a special session of the legislature and pass a law allowing the city of Chicago to increase its bonded debt $5,000,000, which will be turned into the World's fair fund.

Mrs. Potter Loses the Suit.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The suit of H. C. Miner against Mrs. James Brown Potter, to recover $3438.40, which has been on trial for several days in the supreme court, ended in a verdict for the plaintiff for the full amount claimed. The claim was for a balance of moneys advanced for Mrs. Potter's handsome stage robes.

—A circular was received at this office, this week purporting to be a true statement of the gubernatorial situation but which, in reality, was a quasi-disguised attack on General Hastings. The latter, however, need have no misgivings about such literature as it will in all probability be met and answered as did Chester county answer a similar paper last Saturday, and the effect of the stroke will be felt only by its projectors.

—Tyrone will open up a First National Bank on or about the first of August. The capital stock will be $75,000. Mr. D. Shelly Kloss, of Mifflin, will be the cashier. The other officers are J. S. Morrison, president; J. N. VanValzah, vice president; J. S. Morrison, J. F. VanValzah, George D. Blair, John A. Crawford Dr. J. M. Smith, A. A. Stevens, Esq., and J. P. Walton, directors.

—To keep water cool with the least trouble and expense envelope a porous jug or earthen jar in folds of flannel which should be wet from time to time so as to keep up a constant evaporation. This evaporation will keep the water in the vessel at an even temperature, and one that is much more healthful than of water cooled with ice. It is cheap and effective.

Call for the Republican State Convention

HEADQUARTERS REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE,
Philadelphia, April 23, 1890.

The Republican State Convention will be held in the Opera House at Harrisburg on Wednesday, June 25, 1890, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor Lieutenant Governor and Secretary of Internal Affairs, and for the transaction of other business.

The attention of Republicans throughout the State is respectfully directed to the following permanent rules for the holding of State conventions and the conduct of the party.

FIRST, That delegates to the State convention shall be chosen in the manner in which candidates for the general assembly are nominated.

SECOND. Hereafter the State conventions of the Republican party shall be held not earlier than the third Wednesday of August, except in the year of the Presidential election, when it shall be held not more than thirty days previous to the day fixed for the National Convention, and except in Gubernatorial years. At least sixty days' notice shall be given of the date of the State Convention.

THIRD, That we recommend to the county organizations, that in their rules they allow the largest freedom in the general participation in the primaries consistent with the preservation of the party organization.

The State convention of June 30, 1886, having abolished Senatorial representation, delegates to the approaching State convention will be selected according to the number of Representatives in the Legislature to which each county or city is entitled under the Representative Apportionment law passed by the Legislature of 1857.

By resolution of the State Committe.

—It is simply absurd for the Watchman to say that the present Board of Commissioners will run the county finances into the ground by the reduction of the rate to 2 mills. That is only one of our neighbor's ways of trying to get over what it is afraid will prove a "difficulty" about election time this fall. But the voters of Centre county cannot be hoodwinked by any such stuff as the Watchman printed last week: They are too jive awake for that, and our neighbor will realize it in November.

He Shot to Kill.

Calvin Mapes, a ten-year-old boy who was employed by Chas. Gray in Sinking Valley, Blair County, committed suicide on Monday afternoon by shooting himself through the heart with a 32-calibre revolver. The cause for this sad tragedy is not known. The only relatives the boy was known to have was his father, and it is not known where he now is. The lad was buried in the Tyrone cemetery on Tuesday afternoon.

—The Chief Burgess on Monday issued an order forbidding all lounging or loafing on the pavements and sidewalks Persons hereafter are not allowed to sit in chairs or on boxes in front of any business place or public house, as it is inconvenient to the passerby, and the police have instructions to at all times keep the pavements clear. This is as it should be and we are glad to see the Chief Burgess make such a move.

That Tired Feeling

You cannot always tell what may be its cause. Possibly it may be due to change of season, climate, or life; possibly to overwork or overstudy, to mental suffering, or nervous ailments. But there is no mistaking its effects. You know you feel "almost tired to death," without strength to do anything; ambition seems to be all gone, and in its place indifference to how the world wags—an indescribable languor and weakness. You have no appetite, do not care about food, and only eat because it is the hour for eating, or from force of habit.

This must be stopped. Your condition must be changed at once, or like a ship drifting with the inward tide, you will soonjbe dashed upon the rocks of incurable disease and death. Rouse the torpid kidneys and liver, tone the digestive organs, create a new appetite, purify and vitalize the impure and sluggish blood, cure the headache, and overcome all the prostrating effects of That Tired Feeling, by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is just what you need, and to delay taking it is unwise.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"Since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla that extreme tired feeling has gone, my appetite returned, and it has toned me up generally." CLARA W. PHELPS, Shirley, Mass.

"My wife suffered from sick headache and neuralgia. After taking Hood's Sarsaparilla she was much relieved." W. R. BABB, Wilmington, O.

Every ingredient employed in producing Hood's Sarsaparilla is strictly pure, and is the best of its kind it is possible to buy. All the roots and herbs are carefully selected, personally examined, and only the best retained. All are ground in our own drug-mill, so that from the time of purchase until the medicine is prepared, everything is carefully watched with a view to attaining the best result.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Makes the Weak Strong

"Every spring I take from three to five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, because I know it purifies the blood and thoroughly cleanses the system of all impurities. That tired feeling will never visit the system that has been properly cared for by Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. H. LAWRENCE, Editor Agricultural Epitomist, Indianapolis, Ind.

"It is a pleasure to sell such goods as Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved to be." C. BROWN, Milton, Penn.

"My daughter had an abscess on her neck for five or six years, being all the time under care of physicians, without any perceptible relief. Hood's Sarsaparilla was then recommended to me for her, and it has entirely cured her." S. THOMPSON, Hazelwood, Pittsburgh, Penn.

"I highly recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as the best remedy for sick headache. I have been selling this medicine 6 years and not one bottle proved unsatisfactory." F. J. FRICK, Frick's, Bucks Co., Penn.

Weak Women.

The more sensitive nature of the female sex renders women much more susceptible than men to those numerous ills which spring from lack of harmony in the system. Nervousness, sick headache and other ailments peculiar to women cause great suffering. Hood's Sarsaparilla is admirably adapted for such cases. It gives great nerve, mental, bodily and digestive strength, cures headache, indigestion, and creates an appetite.

"For nine years I was in a state of constant suffering, scarcely able at any time to walk about the house, and part of the time unable to be out of bed. By advice of local physicians I went to Philadelphia for treatment, which gave me relief for a time, but I was soon worse again and gave up hope of ever getting well. The physicians said I had a fibroid tumor. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and its good effect was soon apparent. I began to improve in health, and continued taking the medicine till now I feel perfectly well, and can walk six or seven miles a day without feeling tired. I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine for women and anyone who has bad blood." JENNIE E. SMITH, East Broad Top, Penn.

"I must say Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I ever used. Last spring I had no appetite, and the least work I did fatigued me ever so much. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon I felt as if I could do as much in a day as I had formerly done in a week. My appetite is voracious." MRS. M. V. BAYARD, Atlantic City, N. J.

They Will Manufacture Fertilizer.

McCalmont & Co., in addition to their implement and seed store, their lime and coal, will in the future manufacture and sell a high grade of fertilizer. This firm has for years been known all over this and adjoining counties as one of the most reliable firms, in all its dealings, that could be found in a month's travel. This is because the men connected with the firm are all men of practical experience and good judgment and they use their knowledge to the interest of their patrons.

Mr. Shortlidge is a student of the best methods of agriculture, always studying the needs of the farmer and the demands of the soil in various localities, hence he runs his business with an intelligence superior to that of three fourths of the farmers of Centre county. When he sells a man a wagon or any piece of agricultural machinery he sells it to him as the best that can be had and the one best suited to these localities. When he sells seed, he sells it as good, clean seed because he has given it personal examination and knows; when he sells lime or coal he knows just what he is selling and the purchaser always finds it as represented.

And now he is bringing his practical knowledge into play in the manufacture of a fertilizer that he guarantees to be superior to any sold in Central Pennsylvania, and when he says so it can be depended on that it is, too, and at a price very reasonable compared with that of fertilizers of an inferior grade. The firm will also keep salt which they recommend as a good fertilizer and which they sell at a very low figure. When in need of a fertilizer or salt call on this firm and see what they have.

The Value of Pure Wine in Sickness

The chief difficulty with reliable wines has been their scarcity and richness in body, but this has been removed by the introduction of a pure native wine, produced by Mr. A. Speer of New Jersey. He has submitted his wine to the test of many celebrated physicians and chemists, and all concur in its purity, rich medical properties, and superiority to all Port Wines. Most of them prescribe it in cases of debility, affections of the kidneys and chronic complaints, requiring a tonic, suporific or diuretic treatment.

Demorest's Magazine.

"Funny!" Well, I should say so! Look at the one in short lace skirt to the knees, rubber boots, bare arms, an immense muff, straw hat, and—a beard. 'What is it?' Why, that is 'A Modern Columbus' in the burlesque of that name given by a dramatic club of the celebrated Seventh Regiment of New York, and these illustrations and the account of it are, as you see, in Demorest's Family Magazine for July, which has just arrived." The pictures of the six footers of the Seventh arrayed in feminine toggery are about the funniest that have appeared in any magazine for a long time. This number also contains a beautifully illustrated article on the interior of Vice President Morton's house, which is full of suggestions for modern house furnishing. The article "Stanley's Rescue of Emin," profusely illustrated, is also of great interest at this time; and "The House Boat in American Waters" will give a hint to many who are wondering how to spend the summer. In fact the whole Magazine, from the handsome Water color in the front to the "Spice Box" in the back, is artistically and handsomely executed. It is wonderful how Demorest's Family Magazine has come to the front in the past few years, and now stands in the forward rank of the Great Magazines. Indeed, there is no other Magazine published that so acceptably caters to every member of the family. Published by W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th St., New York.

Get Up a Business Men's Jubilee.

The Young Men's Christian Association, of this place, is desirous of raising money. Let the managers of the same go to work and get up a Business Men's Jubilee. They are all the go just now and a very good money raising scheme. In other towns where different societies have tried it they have realized from two hundred to as high as four hundred dollars. Surely this would be worth the labor it would take to get one up. Try it once and find out what there is in it. There is no danger of losing anything and there is every possibility of making something.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. TO PHYSICIANS IN PENNSYLVANIA:

An opportunity is afforded in connection with the taking of the census by the United States Government, of obtaing statistical information which cannot fail to be of extreme value to the State, as regards the physically defective classes which compose a portion of its population. The State Board of Health, to which has been confided the duty of superintending the collection of vital statistics in this Commonwealth, is desirous that these returns should be as full as possible. The medical profession of all others, should be the first to appreciate the importance of such information. It has been found, however, in conversation with physicians, that many of them entertain the apprehension that the information which they thus impart may be used in some manner detrimental to the patient, or individual, to whom it refers. In order to remove any such obstacle to obtaining complete returns, communications were addressed to the Hon. R. P. Porter, Supt. of Census, and Dr. J. S. Billings, Surgeon U. S. A., in charge of Vital Statistics, and Statistics of Special Classes, asking for a guarantee in addition to that already given, "that all information furnished on their schedules would be considered, and treated as strictly confidential, no name being published." To this communication the following replies have been received.

There can, therefore, be no ground for hesitancy on the part of the profession, on the score of professional delicacy, to furnish the information called for in every particular. Respectfully

(Signed) Benj. Lee, M. D.
Supt. Vital Statistics of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Department of the Interior,
Census Office,
Washington, June 3, 1890.

SIR:—I beg to acknowledge your favor of the 2nd instant, and in reply to say that you can assure every physician in your State that whatever information they give to this office will be strictly confidential so far as names and residences are concerned. That Physician's returns are to be used only to correct information received from Enumerators and immediately destroyed as soon as compared, only a few selected clerks will ever see them, and it will be impossible that any information should reach their patients.

Permit me to express my appreciation of this work and assure you that you may pledge this office to fully guard against any personal information being obtained on account of the returns of the physicians.

Very respectfully,
Robert P. Porter.

Cencus Office,
Washington, June 4th, 1890.

Sir:

Permit me to acknowledge your favor of the 2nd instant, and in reply to state that the only object in obtaining these returns from physicians is to correct the Enumerator's return, and under no circumstances will the information received from physicians be used against an individual, but as soon as compared, and Enumerator's report corrected the physician's schedule will be destroyed. They are to be used simply to supplement the information given to the enumerator and in no case will any patient ever know through this office that a physician ever made a report of his case The Superintendent communicated with you on this subject yesterday, and Dr. Billings, now absent, is fully in accord with him in assuring you that no physician need fear that the information given will be used save in the most confidential manner.

In the absence of Dr. J. S. Billings, Special Agent.

Very respectfully,
W. H. Olcott,

An Atlanta Lady's Sad Condition.

"About two years ago a sore came on my nose. I called in a physician who could arrest it only for a few days; when it would appear as bad as ever, finally it became permanent, and despite the constant attention of several physicians it continued to grow worse, the discharge from the ulcer being exceedingly offensive. This was my condition when I commenced to take Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) about one month ago, but I am now happy to say that after taking four large bottles of your wonderful medicine my nose is entirely well, and my general health better than it has been in ten years."

The Pennsylvania Reserves.

A conference of the Gettysburg Monument Commission and committee representing the several regiments of the Pennsylvania Reserves which have not yet erected monuments on the battlefield was held at the Capitol Friday.

It has been decided by the commission to erect monuments the same as were erected for the other regiments which fought in the battle. Gov. Curtin, Capt. C. K. Chamberlain, Capt. John Taylor, Capt. James McCormick, William Hayes Grier, Col. Taggart and a few other representatives of the Reserves were present. Gen. Galein and Col. Taylor represented the commission. The object in having a conference with the representatives of the several regiments was to talk over the matter of a Pennsylvania Reserve day at Gettysburg when the monuments shall be dedicated. It was decided on the part of the Reserves to take no part in the dedication, but to ask the Legislature for an appropriation to erect a memorial hall, the original proposition of the corps. It will be remembered that Gov. Beaver vetoed the bill containing the appropriations of the Reserves for a memorial hall on constitutional grounds.

Extension of Dining Car Service on the Pennsylvania Lines.

In these days of hurry and rapid transit the dining car has become an essential element of every through train. The Pennsylvania Railroad was the pioneer in the east of this branch of the service, and its dining cars have well won a well-merited reputation among travelers. In order to better provide for the comfort of its through passengers dining cars will, on and after June 16th be added to the equipment of all through trains running over the lines west of Pittsburg between the East and Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis. The principal trains on the lines East of Pittsburg are now equipped with these cars, and their addition to those of the Western territory will greatly enhance the convenience of passengers destined to the three great Western termini.

—The intricacies of the law are incomprehensible. During recent years wills drawn up by ten of the ablest lawyers in the United States, and each covering pages of legal cap, have been contested and broken by legal practitioners of far less reputation; while the will of an old farmer in the State of Iowa, written in four lines on a slate has stood the test of thirteen lawsuits as tried by the most eminent counsel.

THE 1890 CENSUS.

Will Undoubtedly Mean a Separate Judicial District for Centre County.

The census being taken while, we have no doubt, it will show a rapid stride in the developement of the natural resources of Centre county, a fair financial condition and a goodly increase in the population of the county, it will undoubtedly, show the present population to be large enough to constitute Centre county a separate and distinct judicial district. In 1880 the population of Centre county was 37,922. As it only requires a population of 40,000 to constitute a judicial district in one county, it is easy to believe that the present census will show more than double the required increase.

With Centre county a separate judicial district it will assure its respective importance in future senatorial or congressional apportionments. What effect this may have politically can only be conjectured. It will be four years yet until the present term of Judge Furst expire and, in the meantime, there is no telling what changes may occur in Centre county politics.

As regards the increase in population throughout the county it is beyond peradventure that Bellefonte will show the greatest per cent rate of increase since the last census year of any other point in the county. In 1880 the population was about 4,000; Now it will hardly fall below 5,500 at the least, and for the size of the place, it is safe to venture that Bellefonte will compare favorably with any town in the United States in financial ratio and general statistics. The outcocome of the 1890 census is awaited wirh a feverish impatience because the manifest interest is manifold.

The Oldest Inhabitant.

A Milledgeville, Ga., special of June 4th says: Cencus Taker Bethune, discharging his duties, to-day, ran across the oldest "inhabitant," and was puzzled for a while as to what entry to make for her age. Jane Moore, a colored woman living in the Northern part of the city, gave her age 121. Mr. Bethune questioned her some time and found her to be a regular encyclopedia of the early days of independence. She knew all about it; was there and saw it. She remembered Washington and all of the fathers; she remembered their habits and eccentricities, and said that she was married and had children when Washinton died. Her eldest living has been blessed with twenty-seven others. She is evidently not less than 110 years old and maybe 121 as she says.

WHAT IS SAPOLIO?

It is a solid handsome cake of scouring soap which has no equal for all cleaning purposes except in the laundry. To use it is to value it.

What will SAPOLIO do? Why it will clean paint, make oil-cloths bright, and give the floors, tables and shelves a new appearance. It will take the grease off the dishes and off the pots and pans. You can scour the knives and forks with it, and make the tin things shine brightly. The wash-basin, the bath-tub, even the greasy kitchen sink will be as clean as a new pin if you use SAPOLIO. One cake will prove all we say. Be a clever housekeeper and try it.

FROM UNDER THE DOME

The Discussion in the House on the Silver Question.

MR. WILSON'S STRONG TALK

He Declares That Any Man or Any Party That Should Put the Country on a Silver Basis Would Be Sunk in Infamy for All Time.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 7.—The house met at 11 o'clock and debate began at once on the silver bill.

Mr. Lind, of Minnesota, said he represented an agricultural district, the farmers of which were not poor but not wholly prosperous.

The depressed condition was due to the low prices of agricultural products, which he believed were affected by the amount of money in circulation. The increase of circulation advanced prices; the shrinkage of circulation diminished them. The great mass of the people demanded that silver should be restored to its former position.

The people understood the question, and could think and reason as well as members of congress. He said the treasury bill was the most objectionable, for under a friendly secretary it might be made useful in increasing the volume of currency; but under an unfriendly secretary it might be dangerous. The least objectionable proposition was the Republican caucus bill.

Mr. Flower, of New York, spoke entirely in behalf of a constitutional amendment for the election by the people of officials who are now appointed.

Mr. Lacey, of Iowa, said there was an absolute shortage of funds. The pending bill, which was practically a free coinage bill, proposed to increase the circulation to offset the contraction. It was a free coinage measure because it provided that when silver was at par the mints should be open to free coinage. The country needed an expansion of the currency in a safe way, which this bill provided.

Mr. Walker's Strong Words.

Mr. Walker, of Massachusetts, denied that there was business depression because of low prices. There was not a solitary fact that justified the statements made in favor of free coinage. There was never a day since the sun shone on the earth when a farmer could pay his debts with as few days' work as he could today. Prices had been going down for one hundred years.

The demonetization of silver had not had the slightest appreciable effect on the depreciation of prices. Money had no place in economics; it was an incident in economics. You might destroy all the gold and silver in the world to-night, and wake up in the morning and the world would not be hurt one iota. It was an absolute disgrace to the house to hear the rot that was talked here; and he had talked some of it himself.

He asserted that there was not another business in the country that could have had as much overproduction as the farming industry and get anything for its goods. He would vote for this bill because he knew that the members of the house for the past twenty years, for the purpose of re-election, had urged and encouraged the people in their folly until they had come to such a state of mind that something must be done or they would break members up.

It was pure politics; that was all there was about it. The question was not one between gold and silver, but was a question as to whether the poor should be robbed and their substance given to the rich. Any man or party that put the country on a silver basis would be sunk in eternal infamy.

The Half Mile Record Broken.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., June 7.—At the fair grounds race course, in the free for all pacing, Fred Arthur won in three straight heats. He made the first heat in 2.14¼, just one second lower than his record. The great pole team, Reina and Betsy Brown, driven by Doble, broke the half mile record of 1.08¼. Starting at the half mile pole they trotted the first quarter in the marvelously fast time of 33½ seconds. Around the turn Betsy Brown broke, but Reina trotted steady until almost under the wire. The half mile was done in 1.07¼ amid loud applause.

Grover Cleveland Invited.

WOONSOCKET, June 7.—Mayor Pond has invited the Hon. Grover Cleveland to visit Woonsocket on July 4 and deliver a short oration. The mayor, as chairman of the state convention, once went to Washington and invited the president to visit Rhode Island. He declined on the ground that the visit might assume some political significance, but it is now thought the ex-president may accept. The state officers would meet him here, together with many prominent New Englanders.

Straws Show How, Etc.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., June 7.—The delegates to the Democratic state convention were polled as to their choice of candidates for president and vice president for the Democratic party in 1892, and expressions of choice were obtained from 600 of the 800 and odd delegates, with the following result: For president — Cleveland, 521; Palmer, 67; Hill, 7; Abbett, 2; Whitney, 2. For vice president—Gray, 381; Palmer, 112; Morrison, 76; Black, 30; Stoughton, 21.

Lost Their Lives in the Attempt.

ASHLEY LAKE, Utah, June 7.—Two young men named Workman and Bird were drowned in Ashley creek while attempting the rescue of a Mr. Wimmer, who had been trying to cross the swollen stream on horseback and had been carried down by the current. Wimmer was eventually brought ashore by other parties, but in such an exhausted condition that his life is despaired of. Workman and Bird's bodies were recovered.

The Rush After Depredating Sealers.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The United States revenue cutter Rush has departed for another cruise in the Behring sea on the lookout for depredating sealers. One of her officers informed the United Press correspondent that he did not think there would be many seizures this season, as few sealers would run the risk of being seized now that the government has taken a positive attitude.

The Record Lowered.

CHICAGO, June 7.—At the bicycle tournament at the Exposition building, Van Sicklen lowered the five mile record from 14 minutes, 8 2-5 seconds to 14 minutes, 5 3-4 seconds.

BONNER'S OFFSPRING HEARD FROM.

LAURELTON, Union Co., Pa

GENTLEMEN :—

Dear Sirs—Yours of the 15inst. received and contents duly noted. The colt you alluded to—"Grover Cleveland,' by name—was bred from Bonner and a blooded Hambletonian mare. He was born May 8th, 1885, making him five years old by May 8th, next. Color, Black. When two years old he weighed 1000 pounds and had one mare colt—a good one—now two years old. When three years old he had three mares which brought three colts, all good ones. Last summer he had 17 mares, of which 14 are with foal.

He stands 12¾ hands high in his bare feet this morning and weighs about 1200 pounds. When he was three years old he trotted in 2.50. I intend to have him kept for service this season. I worked him right along since he was two years old. He is perfect built horse in every particular and a square stepper. Can be bought, before the season opens, for five hundred dollars cash and not a dollar less.

Very respectfully yours,
D. O. BOW

BONNER.

all persons interested in improving the blood of their horses should all at the Cummings House stables and see the trottingbred horse Bonner His proprietors intend to have him kept for service. The pedigree of this horse as authentically traced is as follows:

The sire of Bonner was by Knickerbocker, whose sire was Rysdeckes Hambletonian, and the dam of Bonner's sire was by Messenger. The dam of Bonner was a Vermont Morgan whose dam was a Starr mare.

These horses are all world renowned as every intelligent horse man knows. The dam of Bonner trotted in 2.40 at the age of 22 years.

This horse has always been kept for service. However after one week's training upon the track, at Lewisburg he trotted in 2.58 and competent judges declare that if properly handled he would be trotting in the teens.

Bonner is a mahogony bay, will be 9 years old in May, and weighs 1000 lbs. He has bred colts that weigh 1400 lbs. and he has lighter offspring that are very promising for roading and for speed. f-20-3m

Mysterious Mountain Wells.

Near the town of Warrensville, eight miles from Williamsport, are four remarkable wells within a short distance of each other, on the summit of the mountain. Great rocks abound in the neighborhood, and the place is considered the wildest in Lycoming county. Two of them are ten feet in diameter, one twelve and one fifteen. They sink downwards to an unfathomable depth. How they came there nobody knows, but their existence is a menace to the safety of hunters unacquainted with the locality, inasmuch as they constitute dangerous pitfalls into which careless sportsmen might step without warning. Looking down into the wells one can see huge masses of rock jutting out from the sides here and there, and on these rocks are strewn in great profusion the skeletons and antlers of deer and the skeletons of other animals that have fallen over the brink.

These wells have at times been explored for a distance of several hundred feet by means of rope ladders let down from above, but the investigations gave no clue to the mystery of the fountain. All efforts to ascertain their depth with plumb lines have failed, as the declivity at all points is not perpendicular. Loose rocks and stones dropped by persons from the ladders can be heard echoing and splashing at vast distances below, with sounds that seems to come from thousands of feet under the surface of the ground.

A LADY'S PERFECT COMPANION.

PAINLESS CHILDBIRTH, a new book by Dr. John H. Dye, one of New York's most skillful physicians, shows that pain is not necessary in Childberth, but results from causes easily understood and overcome. It clearly proves that any woman may become a mother without suffering any pain whatever. It also tells how to overcome and prevent morning sickness-swelled limbs, and all other evils attending pregnancy. It is reliable and highly endorsed by physicians every where as the wife's true private companion. Cut this out: it will save you great pain, and possibly your life. NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING PAYS.

Nothing is high that produces a profit. If spending $100 a year in advertising will cause an increased net profit of $200 it is a magnificent return. My experience is that the ratio is much larger. I have tested the matter in every way. I began by not advertising at all, and I confess that it was your example that led me to do so. Then I tried sign boards in the country. They brought in some out-of-town people who did not know me before, but did not influence the town people. I tried handbills, but the distribution was not good unless I sent my own clerks out with them, and that was too expensive. I found that although the handbills were cheap enough the cost of the boy's time and the bills together exceeded that of an equal space and distribution by the newspaper.

Then I couldn't be all the time getting up and distributing bills, and so what interest they did excite was spasmodic and temporary, while the news paper was a persistent advocate. Not only that, but I became convinced that the news paper advertisement was more influential than the street flyer. It lent somewhat of its own dignity and respectability to whatever it said in its columns.—Men's Outfitter.

SNORING TO BECOME OBSOLETE.

A Long-Felt Want Supplied at Last by an Ingenious New Yorker.

An invention which fills a great and long-felt want has just been given to the world by an ingenious citizen of New York. He calls it a "snore preventer," and it is nothing less than a device to abolish snoring. Although snoring is a habit of the remotest antiquity—history tells us that Adam used to snore—yet it has always baffled human skill and ingenuity till now. Everybody for countless ages has realized the necessity of a snore preventor, but it was left to be produced by the fortunate New Yorker at this late day. Whether it was the result of laborious thought sustained by the hope of curing a snoring wife or the happy inspiration of an instant, is not clear. It is quite enough to know that a snore preventer is a fact, and it is safe, convenient and successful.

It is not easy to comprehend with any ordinary effort of the mind the vast importance of this invention. Unquestionably snoring is one of the most annoying habits to which humanity is given. There is, to be sure, a wide difference in snores, ranging all the way from a shrill treble to a basso profundo, but all of them are harsh, unmusical and decidedly unpleasant to every wakeful ear. No facility of execution, no power of expression on the part of a snorer, can render his snore tuneful and agreeable to a single listener.

It is always received with marks of disfavor, and often cut short by arousing him from his slumber. In domestic life the snore is a fruitful source of trouble. Let either a husband or a wife snore while the other is awake, and marital unhappiness is inevitable. As a ground for divorce it is quite as successful as cold feet. Homes on which heaven seemed to smile have been rendered hopelessly wretched by the involuntary snoring of wife or husband.

All this is changed as if by enchantment by the snore preventer. No great invention perhaps ever before so fully combined the qualities of simplicity and convenience. It is merely a thin strip of celluloid, to be inserted on retiring between the lips and the teeth, and a child can easily adjust it. Its use is certain to become universal. In the home, in hotels, in sleeping cars, in churches, in sessions of Congress, etc., it will be invaluable. With it sleep will be as snoreless as it is sweet and salutary. The sleep of beauty and innocence, the gentle work of nature's foster nurse, repose, will never again be marred by the harsh, discordant snore.

She Stood Him Off.

A landlord who was before one of the circuit court commissioners the other day to see about getting a non-paying tenant out of his house explained:

"It is now five months since I got a cent of rent. The first excuse was the death of a child. Their second the sickness of the husband. Their fourth was that a relative had died. Their fifth was given yesterday."

"What was it?" asked the commissioner.

"Well, I called at the house and rang the bell. No answer. I then went to the side door. No answer. Then I went around to the kitchen, where I found the woman. I told her I had come to make a last demand before appealing to the law, and she insisted that I go, around to the front door and ring the bell. I did so, and she opened the door looked me over from head to foot, and said:

"Sir, If you have called to see my husband, he is out."

"But you'll do just as well, madam, I have come for the rent."

"Who are you, sir?"

"Your landlord, of course."

"I can't place you, and I shall pay you no money until you are properly indentified. Call with your papers some day next week."—Detroit Free Press.

THE ENCAMPMENT.

Orders for the Soldiers of the National Guard of Pennsylvania.

By order of Governor Beaver, the Adjutant General has issued the following circular to the members of the National Guard of Pennsylvania:

Under the provisions of the act of assembly approved April 13, 1887, there will be held a division encampment of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, at Mount Gretna, Lebanon county, from July 19 to 26 inclusive.

All commands will be in camp and report for duty by 7 o'clock a. m., July 21, and will be paid for five days' service from that day inclusive. Quarters and subsistence will be furnished troops from July 19 to 26.

Orders for transportation will be furnished by brigade commanders, having due regard to economy, and to that end company commanders will reduce their company to only what is necessary. Requisitions, to be forwarded through the regular military channel, will be made on the adjutant general by the quartermasters of brigades, regiments and the commanders of unattached camp equipage, in accordance with the circular of the quartermaster general published in general orders No 5, series of 1884. Quartermaster of regiments and commanders of cavalry and artillery companies will make requisition for one hospital tent, two stretchers, four cots and four blankets for hospital purposes. Requisition for medical blanks and supplies will be made to the surgeon general by the surgeons and the assistant surgeons of cavalry and artillery companies.

Inspection rolls, pay rolls, abstracts of daily roll call, property returns, reports of annual allowance and army rent, with vouchers and book, will be required to be presented as heretofore. The inspection rolls will show the enlistments and discharges since the date of the last annual inspection under proper headings. Companies and bands will make financial reports of all moneys on hand at last encampment, and amounts since then received and expended.

Where an entire command is provided with white helmets, they will be permitted to wear them on all duties except at the inspection by the adjutant general. No enlistments, excepting re-enlistments will be made for thirty days previous to the close of the encampment, and all enlistment papers of men who have been enlisted since the last encampment will be forwarded to this office on or before the time above mentioned.

Road Commission of Pennsylvania.

The following circular has been sent us with a request for publication:

The Road Commission being anxious to ascertain the views of the citizens of the Commonwealth upon subjects suggested, the Commission submit and respectfully request answers to the following interrogatories:

1. Are you in favor of abolishing the present system of working out road taxes and paying a cash tax instead?

2. Do you favor State aid to public roads?

3. If so, how shall it be distributed, to the townships or counties?

How shall the amount be ascertained, by valuation of assessable property, number of inhabitants, road mileage or otherwise?

4. Are you in favor of supervisors serving without compensation, the same as school directors, whose duty shall be the assessment of taxes and appointment of road overseers to have charge of the work?

5. How shall roads be superintended and controlled—by State, county or township supervisors or engineers?

And shall the State aid, if any, be handled the same as local taxes?

6. Is your county an agricultural, manufacturing or mining county?

7. Is the stone in your county suitable for road building?

8. Are you in favor of authorizing townships to borrow money for road purposes?

9. Are you in favor of convict labor on public roads?

Give your views upon any other points you desire pertaining to road laws and road construction and maintainance.

Cleaver—Roop.

On Tuesday morning at eleven o'clock, in the Methodist Episcopal church at Birmingham, the Rev. George Guyer, of Tyrone, united in marriage the Rev. Nelson Collins Cleaver and Miss Minnie Roop, formerly of State College, this county, but now of Birmingham. Rev. Cleaver is a late graduate of Dickinson College, Carlisle, and at present a student at the Drew Theological Seminary, New Jersey. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roop, who are well known through the upper part of Centre county, having for years resided at Loveville. We wish the young couple much joy and happiness in their voyage through life.

—Register John A. Rupp went to Oak Hall on private business, he said, on Thursday afternoon. He took with him a basket that would hold almost a bushel, a fish basket, line and rod, pair of gum boots and a box of campaign cigars. Now when it is remembered that John is a great fisherman and a candidate for the nomination for Register, we leave it to the reader to judge what kind of "private business" he was out on.

'Table Talk' for June.

With the advent of warm weather, humanity some-what loses its fancy for such dishes as were wont to amuse the palate in cooler seasons. TABLE TALK horoughly apprehends this condition of affairs, and its profession is to apprehend and apply the remedy. The peculiarly interesting manner in which it does this we won't attempt to explain here, but advise our lady readers to get a copy of the June number, wherein they will plainly see with what ingenuity the editor, Mrs. S. T. Rorer, patches up the appetite for the summer's work. It is the only magazine in this country devoted to home cooking, and housekeepers will find it worth ten times the price of the subscription.

The contents are varied and of such value that the magazine cannot be read and laid aside, but must be placed upon the dining room or library table, to be in convenient readiness for constant reference. It is $1.00 a year, or 10 cents a single copy. TABLE TALK is published by TABLE TALK PUBLISHING CO., 1602 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Boy Lost.

On Tuesday morning of last week Samuel, the 13-year-old son of Mr. J. J. Henry, of near this place, started to go to work in a corn field near his home. At dinner time he failed to return and his parents went to find him but the boy was not there. After a long search the assistance of neighbors and friends was secured and a systematic search commenced and continued until Wednesday morning when a trace was secured and followed up to Brayburn engine house on the A. V. R. R. below the West Penn Junction, and from thence to Pittsburg. The police of that city were notified but up to this time, Saturday morning, no word has been received, Mr. Henry being in Westmoreland county, at Jeanette and Irwin, hoping to find the boy at some of his relatives there. When leaving home the boy wore a dark felt hat, rim turning up, salt & pepper coat, and pants with patches on both knees and seat. He has black eyes, straight jet black hair, scar on one cheek, and is very slow of speech.—Saltsburg (Indiana county) Press.

Hastings in Pittsburg.

Adjutant General Hastings has been in Pittsburg for several days on business concerning the arrangements for the military benefit to be given in that city on June 14 for the benefit of the West Penn hospital. The Dispatch speaks of him as follows:

"In the afternoon the General met Major Montooth, and the two candidates had a pleasant chat. They discussed the weather, the latest style in spring bonnets, the price of petroleum, the value of town lots in Bellefonte and Pittsburg and other subjects of a light and engaging nature. Those who were present say that the only reference made to politics was the casual remark which one of the gentlemen made to the other, that he had heard that Senator Delamater, of Meadville, intended to be a candidate for the Gubernatorial nomination. The remainder of the day was spent by General Hastings in walking about the streets, keeping carefully on the shady side, and calling on a number of friends. He spent little time at the hotel and many cards were carried up to his room in vain."

—The Williamsport Gazette & Bulletin has lately moved into larger and more commodious quarters and is now printed from a new and late improved press. If it cannot do better work, however, than is manifest on the copy received at this office it had better go back to its old quarters and print on an old Washington hand press. On every paper we have received this week half of the first page is hardly readable and sometimes the editorial page is upside down: And, in addition, it does not get here on time.

—A tall raw-boned individual, with sleeves rolled above his elbows, called at this office this morning and inquired for the telephone exchange. He said he had had an umbrella broken in the wires this morning and he wanted pay for same or——well, he didn't say or what, but we can imagine, as he was a vicious looking fellow. We advise Messrs Malin, Woomer and Noll to lay shady for a couple of days.

Notice.

If the boy who threw a stone through the rear window of the first floor of this building will quietly step into this office between this and to-morrow evening and pay for same he will not be molested; otherwise he will be arrested and dealt with according to law. We will just say that the lad is known and that this local is not simply for a scare.

—Oh, how our neighbor, the Watchman, is this week agitated over the reduction of the tax rate to two mills on the dollar! It tries very hard to make its readers believe that it is only "political buncum," but we fail to see anything conclusive in the two columns or more of argument it produces. We are inclined to think that the "political buncum" the editor of the Watchman discovered is all in his own columns.

FROM THE COOL MOUNTAIN.

An Esteemed Correspondent Sends Us a Long Newsy Letter from Snow Shoe.

Mr. John Marks has just had his house nicely painted, which improves its appearance very much.

Father Cole has had the plumbers at work piping the water from a spring on the lot of James Burns and he now has it nicely arranged—having hot and cold water all through his house. Such an arrangement is quite a luxury in Snow Shoe.

The difficulty between Messrs. Grauer and Shoemaker and the Lehigh Valley Company, in regard to the right of way, has been settled, and work on the new railroad was resumed Wednesday morning.

Mr. Peter McGovern, of Tyrone, has the contract for the grading of the branch railroad from Grauer & Shoemaker's new mines to No. 10, a distance of nearly three miles.

Mr. John Madill has developed a very valuable piece of coal property at Cato. He has a lease on 400 acres on which there are two good paying veins of coal—one 4 feet and the other 6 feet. The time will not be long before a thriving town will spring up where now is nothing but a wilderness, except the improvement of Mr. Madill which consists of a portable saw mill and six dwelling houses.

Mrs. James Marstetter, who has been visiting her Allentown friends, returned home Saturday evening.

J. A. Olmstead, proprietor of Dr Meeker's medicines, spent several days in Snow Shoe last week. He drove a team of horses and a $500 wagon. Ward Leathers, the boy orator, made some eloquent and amusing speeches from the wagon. Dr. Meeker's remedies are for sale by T B Budinger and J S Ewing.

D. G. Leathers, and his son Ward, of Williamsport, spent Sunday at the residence of T. B. Budinger.

W. B. Masters says if he has any more horses to trade he will do the trading himself.

Doctor Swartz, of Bellefonte, who represents a New York life insurance company and a Montandon nursery, is calling on Snow Shoe people this week.

Mr. J. A. Harper, of Bellefonte, was seen shaking hands with his Snow Shoe friends on the Mountain House porch Tuesday afternoon.

Representative Allison, of Spring Mills, called on his business friends on Tues-

Mr. Charles French has recently bought a very handsome Safety bicycle, but his girl says she would have been much better pleased if he would have bought a horse and buggy and then Charley and her could have gone pleasure riding with much more safety.

The Peale Coal Co. are prospecting for coal on the mountains near Panther Run.

William McDowell, who is a student at State College, spent decoration day with Snow Shoe friends.

Quite a number of Snow Shoe people visited Milesburg last Friday.

T. B. Buddinger made a business trip to Punxsutawney last week.

Mr. John Palmer has purchased from Robt. Cooper a lot in Scotch town upon which he will build a house.

Mrs. Cameron Boak and her charming daughter, Edith, spent several days in Bellefonte last week.

The P. R. R. Company is fencing their road and the B. C. R. R. should do the same. The money that has been paid for cattle in the four years would pay for fencing the road twice over. The money spent in fencing would supply labor and be a benefit to the community, while the cattle that are killed are just that much valuable property utterly destroyed.

Thursday Night's Storm.

About nine o'clock on Thursday night it commenced to thunder and lightning. For about one hour and a half there was about as pretty an electrical storm as was ever witnessed in Bellefonte. The lightning seemed to play all over the heavens and the illuminations were very vivid. About ten o'clock the thunders began to roll and then the loud claps of thunder and the vivid sheets of lightning were very impressive of what contending armies would be like. The wind blew violently and soon the rain began to descend.

It rained furiously for a few minutes and then hailed. The storm spent its fury in about one half an hour and then the elements settled down into their usual calm. From appearances this morning the wind was terrible in its velocity and the rain harder than it seemed when falling. Several trees were blown down, limbs were blown off and various other things to denote the power of the element, while washed out crossings, pavements covered with mud, etc., was sufficient evidence of the rain that fell.

—There is a President Judge in Pennsylvania who is not great for style when personal comfort is in the question. It is said he goes around attired only in pants and shirt. It must be funny to see a Judge on the bench thus attired and also to see him travel around bare headed and barefooted.

—Why not form a bicycle club in Bellefonte? Surely there are enough lovers of the wheel in this place to form a good sized club. Let some person make the first move in that direction.

GEARY—WHITE.

A Lock Haven Gentleman and a Clintondale Lady Wedded.

We copy from Friday's Lock Haven Express the following account of the marriage of two parties both well known in Bellefonte:

Clintondale, this county, was the scene of a very pretty wedding last night. Our genial and popular lawyer, Mr. B. F. Geary, of the law firm of Kress & Geary, of this city, was the groom, and Miss M. Allison White, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. White, of Clintondale, the bride. At just seven o'clock the bridal party entered the Presbyterian church and in the presence of a fashionable assemblage Rev. S. W. Pomeroy performed the marriage ceremony. The bride was attired in an elegant costume of white Faille Francaise, with embroidered crepe de chine. The bridesmaids were Miss Minnie Myers, of Pittsburg, and Miss Emily Clinger, of Lewisburg. Mr. J. A. Curtis, of Altoona, Mr. Side Geary, of Pittsburg, Mr. W, A. Simpson, Jr., of this city, and Mr. M. J. Weldon, of Montoursville, were the ushers. About two hundred guests were present and they were royally entertained by Mr. and Mrs. White. Mr. and Mrs. Geary left last night on the 11.25 train for an extended tour East. The following were among those present.

Mr. J P Coburn and Mrs. Eva Rogers, Aaronsburg; Mrs. Thomas Hays, Dewart; Mrs. Percy Maxwell, Troy: Mr. and Mrs. Pomeroy, Mill Hall; Mr. and Mrs. G W Fredericks, Flemington; Miss May Quay, Beaver; Miss Emily Clinger, Lewisburg; Miss Fearon, Beech Creek; Miss Quigley, Blanchard; Miss Mary Dobbs, Pittsburg; Miss Wolverton, Sunbury; Miss Hall, St. Marys; Miss Nannie Geary, Altoona; Miss Minnie Myers, Pittsburg; Miss Mary Laird, Lewisburg; Miss Bigler, Clearfield; The Misses Green, Bellefonte; Miss Lucretia Laird, Lewisburg, Mr J A Curtis, Altoona; Mr. W C Geary, Ridgway; Mr. B F Hall, St. Marys: Mr. M J Weldon, Montoursville; Mr. S L Geary, Pittsburg; Mr. Harry Fearon, Beech Creek; Mr. Henry Quigley; Blanchard; Dr. and Mrs. Huston, Mr. Hugh White and sister, Mr. and Mrs. H C Reed, Mr. and Mrs. L W Shuler, Miss Aggie Brown, Miss Conley, Miss Lillie Reed, The Misses Everhart, Clintondale.

In addition to the above list of guests from a distance there were many from Lock Haven as well as from the home of the bride, Clintondale.

Death of Joseph M. Wilson.

Joseph M. Wilson, a notice of whose illness occurred in this paper a few days ago, died at his home in Buffalo Run on Wednesday afternoon. Deceased was over three score and ten years old. He leaves a wife and two children. The funeral will likely occur Friday morning.

Citizen—So you think of locating here?
Physician—Yes. I thought some of practicing among you.
Citizen—See here, young man, there's a good opening here for a man as understands his biz, but we don't want no practicing, or experimenting—doctoring's what we want!

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here or there, and in this way they all present, alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent or overbusy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he prescribes his pills and potions, assuming them to be such, when, in reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some womb disorder. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages his "practice" until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine, like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription directed to the cause, would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery.

It's the only medicine for the weaknesses, irregularties and painful derangements peculiar to women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee that it will give satisfaction in every case, or price ($1.00) paid for it will be promptly refunded.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets regulate and cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels. One a dose. Sold by druggists. 25 cents a vial.

is one that promotes digestion, improves the appetite, cleanses the liver, purifies the blood, and stimulates brain and nerves without injurious reaction, and one that may be taken alike by adult or infant. Profane compounds, made of vile rum or bad whiskey, sweetened and flavored, under the titles of bitters, tonics, &c, produce effects far worse than the disease for which they are taken.

Vinegar Bitters is a pure tonic, a nervine without being narcotic, a purifier without poison, a liver tonic without purging, and above all, a life-giving stimulant without alcohol. The only medicine with such powers in the world.

A GENUINE TEMPERANCE BEVERAGE,

far surpassing alcohol in any shape as a tonic it might be called

since it stimulates, invigorates and regulates digestion, nutrition, secretion, excretion, respiration, and all the functions whereby life is maintained—we literally take in vitality in spoonfuls.

It is too much to assert that the equal of Vinegar Bitters does not exist, and no counterpart or compound with similar virtues has ever been known.

—Centre county should send a large delegation to swell the crowd at Harrisburg and further the interests of Gen. Hastings during the State Convention on the 25th.

—How beautiful those urns, filled with blooming plants, look that surmount the stone pillars and wall at the entrance to the residence of Adjutant Gen. Hastings.

—If the editor of the Renovo Evening News does not send us his paper a little more regular we will come up there and we'll—well, it will all be owing to the size of the editor, as to what we will do.

—The Pittsburgh Dispatch on Monday printed a summary of the republican gubernatorial outlook from an independent standpoint and brought out Hastings five sure delegates ahead of Delamater.

—There seems to be about as great an uncertainty in the democratic camp just now as there is in the republican field. Just where the lightning may strike seems to be a most positive uncertainty.

—The Commencement exercises of Lafayette College will take place from June 21 to 26 inclusive. Hon. W. C. P. Breckenridge, a Member of Congress from Kentucky, will deliver the commencement address.

—The Central Pennsylvania Association of Patriotic Sons of America will meet in Tyrone on the Fourth of July. They expect to have 5,000 members in parade which will take place at 9 o'clock the morning of the Fourth.

—Land sold at a fair price on Monday One tract went for over one thousand dollars; one for five hundred, and a number for smaller sums. It is said it brought all it was worth. Some was held over until a later date when it will again be put up. The county got a goodly portion of what was offered.

—Among those in Bellefonte to witness the sale of unseated lands for taxes we noticed Messrs. Isaac and Isaiah Beck, of Loveville; Jacob Rider, of Marengo; Hon. J. H. Holt and T.B. Budinger, of Snow Shoe; Moses Thompson of Centre Furnace, and several democratic candidates whose names we will not mention.

—If there is one man who takes an interest in schools and the advancement of education it is D. F. Fortney, Esq. He seems to be all the time planning and studying how to improve the facilities of the Bellefonte schools and make the system the best in the county. For this he deserves much credit.

—The young man who attended the decoration day exercises at Curtins and reported same for the Keystone Gazette must have been wonderfully impressed with the exercises on that occasion as he wrote that even the clouds wept tears of sympathy. He would be a good man to report a lynching bee.

A HASTINGS CLUB

To be Organized to Attend the State Convention.

OTHER COUNTIES INVITED TO JOIN

With Centre and Together Work for the Nomination of General Hastings.

In view of the fact that the name of our distinguished townsman, Gen. D. H. Hastings, will be presented to the State Convention which meets in Harrisburg on Wednesday, June 25th, 1890, as a candidate for the nomination for Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, and, thinking it but right that some effort should be made by the citizens of Bellefonte to show that the honor we hope and believe is about to be conferred upon a citizen of our town is appreciated, and also to do whatever is possible to further assist in bringing about the desired result, it has been decided to form a "Hastings Club" for the purpose of attending the State Convention as an organization. The neighboring counties of Huntingdon, Blair, Clearfield and Clinton, all of whose delegates will support Gen. Hastings, are cordially invited to join with us. A large club room has been secured in a convenient location in Harrisburg which will be kept open as Club Headquarters during the days of the convention. All Hastings Clubs are invited to meet there for organization, etc. A law special rate has been secured from all points on the Pennsylvania Railroad. Correspondence is solicited from the above named counties in order that details may be arranged and plans of organization perfected. A special train will leave Bellefonte at 5.35 o'clock on Tuesday morning June 24th, and will go via Tyrone to Harrisburg reaching that point at 10.30 a. m. All persons desiring to join the club or to secure orders for a Railroad ticket or wishing any information can do so by writing to John M. Dale, Sec., Bellefonte, Pa. The fare for the round trip from Bellefonte to Harrisburg and return will be about $3.00. A good band will accompany the club from Bellefonte.

LAWRENCE L. BROWN,
Chairman.

Diocese of Central Pennsylvania.

The nineteenth annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal church, Diocese, of Central Pennsylvania, convenes in Christ church, Towanda, to-day. Rt. Rev. Nelson Somerville Rulison, D. D., Assistant Bishop, will preside. There are 92 churches and six missions, and the convention with clerical and lay delegates, has about two hundred members. This diocese was organized in the year of 1971, Rev. M. A. DeWolfe Howe, then rector St. Luke's church, Philadelphia, being elected as Bishop. Reading is the cathedral centre and there he resides, the infirmity of years preventing an active share in the work. The counties of Bedford, Berks, Blair, Bradford Carbon, Centre, Clinton, Columbia, Cumberland, Dauphin, Franklin, Lackawana, Lancaster, Lebanon, Lehigh, Luzerne, Lycoming, Mifflin, Montour, Northampton, Northumberland, Pike, Potter Schuylkill, Susquehanna, Tioga, Wayne and York comprise the bounds of the Diocese. The churches at Muncy, Montoursville and Williamsport will be represented by their rectors. Christ church is entitled to four deputies and Trinity church to three. The sessions will cover not more than four days.

Doctor Jack.

A novel, by St. George Rathborne, is an intensely interesting and highly dramatic modern story of an American's adventure in Sunny Spain and Oriental Turkey. The scenes are rapid in their action, and yet the reader is given entrancing glimpses of pen painted scenery along the way that charm the senses. It will be conceded on all sides that the author's graphic description of the bull fight at Madrid is the most powerful ever printed; while the events connected with the great Spanish carnival must ever remain a pleasant recollection to the reader. We predict for DOCTOR JACK a sale unequaled since the publication of "Mr. Barnes of New York." The volume is handsomely gotten up, in attractive cover. Price, 50 cents. Published by STREET & SMITH, 25 to 31 Rose Street, New York.

—S. Woods Caldwell, of the Irvin House, Lock Haven, is a candidate for the nomination for County Treasurer of Clinton county. Mr. Caldwell is a nice man and one who is worthy and capable in every respect and, if the office is to be occupied by a democrat, there is not another man in that party in Clinton county that would fill it more acceptably.

—An unknown man was literally crushed to an almost shapeless mass of human flesh by being run over by a train of cars on the Johnstown and Stonycreek Railroad, near Moxham Station, shortly after 8 o'clock Monday evening. When picked up the unfortunate man was still living, and so far as could be understood he gave his name as John Dolan, from the old country. He was placed on a car and removed to the Bedford street station, Johnstown where an anesthetic was administered to him, and thence to the Seventh Ward hospital, where he died in about half an hour. He appeared to be about 35 or 40 years of age.

Philipsburg "Pants."

We copy the following from the Daily Journal:

The introduction of a new enterprise, no matter how many hands are employed, is always a help to any community, and ought to be encouraged in every possible way. The Daily Journal makes it a point to advocate manufacturing enterprises particularly, believing that on these depend very largely the future development of our little mountain city. Some months ago we suggested the idea of an overall factory—not, however, without investigating matters pretty thoroughly to be convinced whether or not it would prove a profitable investment. We are pleased to know that the prospects for such an enterprise are very bright. The thing is almost a foregone conclusion, and in conversation last evening with one of the promoters it is thought matters will be brought to a focus within the next few days. It will be started on a smaller scale than some now in operation in the hope of building up a trade that will warrant the stockholders in branching out. We are not at liberty to day to give full details respecting the enterprise, and to publish the names of those who are interested in the project. Two of the gentlemen who will likely be connected with it are from a distance, and a couple others are residents of Philipsburg. We certainly hope that the affair may prove a big thing to the stockholders and to the community. A factory started some years ago at Lebanon on a small scale now gives employment to five hundred hands, and is naturally a great help to that city in the prosperity enjoyed by its citizens. In addition to overalls the factory is now making workingmen's shirts, plain and fancy pocket handkerchiefs, etc., and every department is being worked to its fullest capacity.

The Clara Price Monument.

We find the following in the Pittsburg Times of Saturday:

Mrs. Mary Boggs, of MonongahelaCity, has written the Times concerning the Clara Price monument fund. Miss Price was murdered some months ago by Alfred Andrews. Mrs. Boggs says:

I do think Clara Price is as deserving of a monument as any one who has sacrificed life for any great cause. She gave her life in defense of her honor. What more could she do? I will enclose you $1. Please forward it to those who have charge of the funds; or, if you think it would be a success, why not start a fund for this purpose, you have done so much in other ways?

To quote the words of Miss Smith, who wrote the Times some weeks ago, I, too, can say: "It is a sad but well known fact that there is scarcely a town or village, however small, but has at least one 'poor unfortunate' outcast, who must forever bear the cold world's scorn, and I feel that some befitting memorial to this poor murdered girl might be the means of saving many feet from straying into the paths of sin, rather than enter for which Clara Price gave up her young life."

The contribution of Mrs. Boggs has been forwarded to W. B. Potter, Kaffhaus, Pa., who is secretary of the monument fund, and to whom all money should be sent. Mr. Potter writes the Times that the fund is still less than $300 but it has been decided to go ahead and contract for a monument.

The "Male" Came Through.

This morning when we went to the post office for our mail we opened the box, as usual, took out the papers and letters that we found therein and then, to our unspeakable surprise, we saw what we supposed was a new suit of clothes some benevolent person or delinquent subscriber had sent to us. We did not see any "tag" on it, but then being in the DAILY NEWS box we, of course, supposed it belonged to us. Catching a good hold, for the bundle seemed quite large, we gave it one severe, sudden pull and, judge of our chagrin, as well as surprise, upon pulling the bundle out, to find that it was our genial friend, the "rising" young lawyer William E. Gray, Esq. Post-master Fiedler was badly frightened at Mr. Gray's sudden disappearance and, pale and trembling, he came out to see where he had gone to, and was just in time to see us release our hold on what we supposed was a new suit of clothes. The query to us now is: What was Wm. Gray, Esq., doing in our mail box?

A Hastings Club.

Have you joined the Hastings club that is now being organized to go to Harrisburg week after next to attend the State Convention? If you have not go to W. I. Flemings and put your name down. Further particulars in a day or two.

—A census enumerator in one of the Philadelphia districts covered his territory in just two days. The supervisor of that district will keep the record of his time as a precedent for all the other enumerators.

SNOW SHOE HEARD FROM.

CHILDREN'S DAY—PERSONALS AND POINTED AND PITHY ITEMS OF INTEREST.

SNOW SHOE, PA., June 10, 1890.

Children's day was duly observed at the M. E. church last Sunday. The decorations were very handsome and exercises were held both morning and evening. Many of the Sunday school scholars displayed remarkable talent in speaking their pieces, and the singing was excellent.

As I was walking down Olive street the other day I met a handsome lady leading her little 3-year-old daughter. I overheard the little one say, "Come on, Mamma; lets go to the circus." She had reference to the merry-go-round which has been in operation for the last few days on the green opposite the Washington House. It is owned by Mr. Herd, of Philipsburg, who will move to Bellefonte next Thursday.

Miss Stella Nolan, who has been attending school in the west, arrived home on Monday. She was accompanied by her cousin, Mrs. Howell, of Atchison, Kansas.

Messrs. Tobin and McCann are prospecting quite extensively on the Holt & Humes property north of Snow Shoe.

The Clearfield Bituminous Coal company has discovered some good workable veins of coal on the mountains near the coke house, about three miles below Cato.

Robt. Gilliland has just completed a handsome yard fence and repainted his residence, which gives it a much better appearance.

James Quinn, of Cincinnati, is visiting his Snow Shoe friends.

James Sliker, the enterprising lumberman from Cato, transacted business in Snow Shoe to-day.

Mrs. William Lucas, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Poorman, of Marsh Creek, returned home on Monday.

J. H. Holt, of Moshannon, attended the treasurer's sales in Bellefonte on Monday.

Two young men were seen trying to take a sketch of a private residence on Olive street Sunday afternoon. A little boy says the machine broke and he overheard one of the young men say it was because the ladies in the house were so handsome. We asked the boy what he thought caused the machine to break and he said it was because they were trying to take pictures on Sunday.

Roll. Heaverly is building an addition to his residence.

Charles French met with an accident on Monday evening. He was riding at a lively rate down Moshannon Avenue on his new bicycle when all of a sudden the Safety's back gave way and Charley sat down in the road like a thousand of brick and then tumbled a double somersault. Charley says he is afraid if his girl finds it out she wont allow him to ride the unsafe Safety any more.

Death of R. D. Cummings.

R. D. Cummings, who in his latter years had come to be called "General" died in Philadelphia on the 27th ult. He was one of the best known citizens, hotel keepers and stage-line owners in this section of the state. Away back in the fifties he was the proprietor of the old Penn-sylvania House in Bellefonte, and ran stage coaches to Tyrone, Lock Haven, Lewistown and other points. He built and for some time managed the Port Matilda hotel and also the Cummings House in Bellefonte. He also successfully conducted the Eagle Hotel on North Third street for three or four years, afterwards becoming the mine host of the "Merchants Hotel" on Fourth street, a popular resort for high-toned people. General Cummings was physically a powerful man. He suffered much during the latter years of his life and was buried at Williamsport by the side of his first wife. He was a man whose hospitality was unbounded and he was liberal and kind-hearted to a fault. May his sleep be peaceful.

The English Sparrow.

The English sparrow certainly is a pest, and no person knows the fact better than our friend Mr. W. R. Teller But he is determined to be rid of them. On Monday he had a couple of men go over the ivy vine, that clings to the side of the house in which he now resides, and rake out the nests. About a cart load of nests and hundreds of birds and eggs were thus destroyed.

Some may think it cruel but if they were pestered with them awhile they would be glad to resort to extreme measures to rid themselves of such numbers and even feel like engaging the young lady from the West ward who, we are told, shot thirty one sparrows in one half a day and then thought she was doing a poor day's shooting. But the best part of it was she did not miss a shot. We are in favor of the extermination of the sparrow.

Hastings Gets Chester.

Four more delegates added to the list of delegates pledged for General Hastings. At the primaries on Saturday Chester county, the one that the Delamater men tried hard to get, voted her delegates to the convention for General Hastings. Chester will send four delegates. Montooth got the delegates from Washington and Westmoreland and we have not yet heard who got them from Fayette.

All in all there were just twelve delegates elected on Saturday and that leaves just twelve more to elect. Of those to elect Hastings is certain of five—those from Montgomery county—which will give him a total of about seventy-five to go into convention with. On the second page of to-day's paper will be found a summary of the strength of each candidate up to last Saturday morning.

Personal Pencilings.

Miss Stella Shope is visiting friends in Williamsport.

Major Austin Curtin was in Huntingdon last week.

R. D. Gillam, of this place, is now rusticating at Mapleton.

We notice that Mr. Edward Richards is in Bellefonte at present.

Mr. W. F. Reeder came home on the 9.32 train this morning.

His Honor, Judge A. O. Furst, was in Philadelphia last week.

Miss Beulah Strohm, of Centre Hill, is visiting friends in Bellefonte.

W. I. Swoope, Esq., believes in the practice of economy and, between the visits of good paying clients, he performs the duty of scrubbing the floor of his office. Mr. Swoope says it is very hard work and very poor pay but it is only an hour employed and a dollar saved. Verily our esteemed young friend is on the right road to riches.

Mr. J. H. Mitchell, of Lemont, was in Bellefonte to-day and dropped in to see us. He is one of Centre county's representative citizens and a very sociable gentlemen. While here he discussed politics, past, present and prospective. He expressed the belief that General Hastings would make the nomination for Governor, and further said that if he did, old Centre would give him a good sound majority. Mr. Mitchell says the limestone soil of Centre county is the best in the State on which to grow governors.

Miss Kreamer and Miss Mingle, the two handsome and interesting young ladies from Centre Hall, who have been visiting Mrs. Brungard on the avenue and also Mrs. Mills on Church street, for the past ten days, took their departure for home this morning. Children's Day in the A. M. E. Church.

BELLEFONTE, PA., June 9, 1890.

MR. EDITOR: Please allow me space enough in your valuable paper to make brief mention of Children's Day in the A. M. E. church of this place. On Sunday, the 8th inst., at 2.30 p. m., the church was filled to its utmost capacity with children, their parents and many friends—including many white ladies and gentlemen—to witness the exercises.

The exercises were, without doubt, the grandest ever held in our church since our first Children's Day in October, 1882. The programme consisted of singing, essays, and discussion of the following subjects: "Children's Day—its Utility and Benefits. "The Sunday School—its Importance and Relation to the Future Church, i. e., the A. M. E Church." "The Meaning and Value of Our Father's Church, i. e., the A. M. E. Church."

The singing was excellent and all who participated in the exercises did great credit to themselves and to their race and we have every reason to believe the audience was delighted. We must not forget to mention the decorations, in which was displayed much taste and beauty; no better could be expected considering the scarcity of flowers this season.

The exercises closed with a grand march by the children singing, "Rally Children Rally," during which time Rev. C. H. Brown, pastor and A. V. Jackson, Superintendent, lifted a collection, which amounted to $10, and which will be appropriated to the liquidating of the debt now resting upon the building of the A. M. E. Sabbath School Union, in the city of Nashville, Tennessee.

The Cost of a Train.

The question is often asked, what does a train cost? What is a Pullman worth? How much money is there in a locomotive? Well, there is a good deal of money in them all, and the money that it takes to equip the ordinary express train would be more than enough to make one comfortable for the rest of his days. The ordinary express train would be more than enough to make one comfortable for the rest of his days. The ordinary express train represents from $83,000 to $90,000. The engine and tender are valued at $10,500; the baggage car $1,000, the postal car $2,000; the smoking car $5,000; two ordinary passenger cars, $10,000 each; three palace cars, $15,000 each—total $83,000. These are minimum prices. There are trains worth very much more.

Dehorning Cattle.

Joseph Horst, a wealthy farmer of Heidelburg, Lebanon county, was acquitted of the charge of cruelty to animals in sawing off the horns of his cattle in November. It was a test case, and had defendant been convicted a number of prosecutions would have followed. The dehorning of cattle, which has been observed for some years in the West has been but recently introduced in Eastern Pennsylvania. Many farmers are opposed to it. Experts were examined from all parts of the country. The preponderence of testimony was in favor of the defendant. A number of witnesse swore that they regarded the practice a humane one. It was shown that Horst had dehorned fifty head of cattle.

—William Reese, of Bellefonte, has been granted a restoration and increase of pension.
